White Christmas gets early start

The worst snowstorm in 22 years, spearheaded by a freezing rain, swept into the Quad City area early Wednesday to paralyze traffic and virtually halt business operations and pre-Christmas activities.

The storm, described as a near-blizzard proportions, brought 12 inches of snow to the Quad City area, with part of the precipitation measured as snow and rain which first hit the area Tuesday night.

It was the heaviest snowfall since Nov. 6, 1951, when nearly 13 inches was recorded. Freezing rain which coated streets with an ice glaze that slowed traffic to a crawl hit the area early Tuesday night, changing to snow in the early morning hours Wednesday. The snowfall was buffeted by high winds that caused drifting.

By 7 a.m. motorists were in deep trouble. Through the day, drifts up to two feet built up in parking areas, along curbs and against buildings.

Motels here and throughout the metropolitan area were crowded as both workers and travelers found themselves stranded by foot-deep snow. Communication needs associated with the snowstorm greatly increased the number of telephone calls yesterday, delaying the dial tone for many prospective callers.

Classes were dismissed early in Granite City schools Wednesday, and all classes were eliminated today in the Granite City and Madison public school districts as well as at parochial schools. Venice classes already were scheduled to end yesterday for the duration of the holidays.

Stores closed early and streets became largely deserted after earlier traffic congestion yesterday. Drifting of snow by the wind complicated the task of clearing walkways, driveways and vehicle lanes. Lambert Airport closed from yesterday morning through this morning.

As the temperature plummeted to 14 last night—and predictions of a five-degree reading tonight—snow softened by the weight of autos solidified. Trucks jackknifed on highways and ramps, hampering the task of keeping Interstate roads open, and all motorists were urged to limit their driving to essential trips. Many firms in the metropolitan area limited their first work shifts today to skeleton staffs, including the McDonnell Douglas Corp.

Separate board urged for SIUE

A call for separate boards to govern the two Southern Illinois University campuses at Edwardsville and Carbondale was made Tuesday by State Sen. Sam M. Vadalabene (D, Edwardsville) of this district.

Speaking at a press conference at the Sunset Hill Holiday Inn, Sen. Vadalabene said he will introduce such legislation in the General Assembly session starting in January.

It would extend to SIUE the identical powers outlined when the original university was established at Carbondale.

Sen. Vadalabene described the proposed new law as "important to all residents of Southwest Illinois."

He commented, "I have never hesitated to sponsor legislation which would provide taxpayers in this major region of the state with fair access to, and fair treatment from the public agencies and institutions which serve this area."

stitutions serving them are governed so that they are responsive to the particular needs of his area. "In keeping with these beliefs, I am having prepared by the Legislative Reference Bureau a bill to separate Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville from the Board of Trustees of Southern Illinois University. I will file this bill at the opening of the January session."

"I have not made this decision hastily. Since its beginning, SIUE has found its own development impeded by the preoccupations of its governing board with the dominant university at Carbondale."

"These of us in this area who were interested in the progress of the university at Edwardsville continually hoped that, in this area, the Board of Trustees would give way to 'full and equal partner' status for Edwardsville."

"Unfortunately for taxpayers in this area, the present Board of Trustees has failed to be able to rise above preoccupation with Carbondale and to make Edwardsville truly an autonomous university."

"The board appears to be continuing various discussions about reorganizing both universities and the way they are run. "But the board does not appear to be very close to granting Edwardsville the autonomous status we have been patiently waiting for."

All but Madison public schools on Yule vacation

All Granite City public and parochial schools will remain closed tomorrow due to the heavy snow, it was announced this morning.

School officials said snow on parking lots and driveways of schools makes it virtually impossible to open the facilities tomorrow. Also closed will be St. Mary's in Madison and St. Mark's in Venice.

Madison public schools will be open tomorrow before beginning the Christmas vacation. Venice schools already are on their Yule break.

All schools will resume classes Jan. 2. All Quad-City schools were closed today due to the snowstorm, and the Madison district is the only one currently planning to operate tomorrow.

Armed robber takes receipts

An armed robber wearing a ski mask stole a receipt bag from Joella Pryor, 1642 E. 23rd St., as she was about to make a deposit in the night depository of American National Bank, American Village Shopping Center, at 10:25 p.m. Tuesday.

She was about to deposit the receipts from the Reeb's Dairy Store on Johnson Road when the man approached and told her several times to give him the money. He kept a pistol pointed at her, she said.

The man then grabbed her, took the money and ran to his car, parked in a stall at the drive-in banking facilities. He drove the car onto Fehling Road and left westbound.

A description of the car used in the robbery was broadcast to area police departments and Ponton Beach police stopped a car matching the description along Ponton Road later Tuesday night, but released the occupant without charges.

No revision of police is proposed

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer
Sweeping revisions in the structure of the Granite City Police Department—including elimination of the position of chief of detectives and the creation of three operational divisions—were recommended to the Granite City Council Monday night by the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners.

Council members took no definite action. Instead, they referred the recommendations to the council's Finance and Police committees for further study and recommendations back to the council.

Several aldermen said they were not in favor of all ten recommendations contained in a letter signed by George Becker, chairman of the fire and police board, Elmer Miller, secretary, and Homer "Cal" Pendleton, a commissioner.

The three board members told the council the recommendations to revise police department procedure and administration were based on a survey of the Granite City department by the Police Service Bureau of the Illinois Association of Chiefs of Police.

"The survey, covering all aspects of law enforcement work pertaining to police operations and its administration . . . has been thoroughly evaluated by the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners for the purpose of correcting, improving and enhancing the Granite City Police Department as an effective law enforcement agency," the board told the council.

The survey report made by the Police Service Bureau contains 62 recommendations, the board said. The majority of them are procedural and administrative changes that can be implemented by the Chief of Police.

Recommendations listed by the fire and police board include:

1. Establish the rank of lieutenant-colonel to replace the existing position of assistant chief.
2. Eliminate the position of chief of detectives as such.
3. Establish three "Captains" rank of which will be filled by the incumbent chief of detectives.
4. Establish three operational divisions as follows: Investigative; B. Patrol; C. Services. Command assignments for each division will be made by the chief of police from the rank of captain.
5. Increase the number in the rank of Sgt. from four to nine.
6. Eliminate the canine patrol and retire dogs.
7. Merge existing traffic division into the patrol division and hire civilian parking meter personnel to work independent of the police department.
8. Hire civilian dispatchers to work under direct supervision of a police communication sergeant.
9. Create a departmental drug control fund of $500 from which the police department can make "buys" and pay informants.
10. That Granite City urgently expedite plans for a new police station. The new station should be designed to maximize effective and efficient use of space, utilities, security and parking. Of equal importance, the much needed police facility in Granite City would certainly improve the department morale and public image.

Firehouse objections discussed

A delegation of residents living in the neighborhood of Johnson Road and Richmond Avenue—proposed site of a new Granite City fire station—requested Monday night that the city drop its plan to build the firehouse at that location.

Speaking before the City Council during its regular session, Gail Buenger, 2208 Richmond Ave., a spokesman for the objectors, maintained the location of a fire station at Johnson Road and Richmond Avenue would result in residential property in the neighborhood and would not result in any reduction in fire insurance rates.

Buenger said a petition opposing the rezoning of the site for a firehouse and construction of the station at the location had been signed by 34 property owners.

The objections resulted in defeat of a motion by Alderman Roy Poulos to suspend the rules for final passage of a resolution finalizing the purchase of the site at its Dec. 3 meeting.

After defeat of the move for final passage, Poulos moved to place the purchase resolution on first reading. That motion was approved by a roll call vote of 8 to 5.

The council was informed by letter from Dave Morgan, chairman of the City Plan Commission, that rezoning of the site to permit construction of the proposed firehouse was unnecessary because the city's zoning ordinance permits construction of public institutions in an R-1 residential district.

Buenger disputed reports to the council in its Dec. 3 meeting that a survey by fire department officials indicated a majority of neighborhood residents were in favor of the new firehouse.

Buenger told the council that the people, among other things, object to the "noise pollution" that would result from a firehouse—particularly sirens at late night or early morning hours.

He said also that he had checked with insurance officials and was told that proximity to a firehouse does nothing toward reducing fire insurance rates for residential properties.

Charles Hileman, assistant fire chief, said he had interviewed residents of the neighborhood, and that while he

For holiday
phone calls, avoid rush

With eight reindeer going for him, Santa's not really worried about the gasoline shortage. But some people relying on forms of transportation that don't burn hay might have to find alternate ways of making holiday visits this year, including "traveling" by telephone.

Tom Rich, Granite City unit manager for Southwestern Bell, says planning of holiday calls ahead of time will be just as important this year as mailing early or making airlines reservations well in advance. "Usually we'd be expecting to complete 227,000 long-distance calls on Christmas Day in this region and about 12 million nationwide," Rich said. "But with the fuel shortage, we really don't know what to expect."

"Our best guess is that a lot more people are going to travel by phone instead of driving, flying or taking a bus or train to visit friends and relatives."

Rich said the telephone network is much like a highway, especially when it gets overloaded. "Any time too many people try to call at the same time, they create a traffic jam," he said.

"Since Christmas Day is always one of the busiest for the telephone network under normal circumstances, we're suggesting our customers make their holiday calls on the weekend before Christmas."

"Customers using One-Plus dialing to place their own station-to-station calls will be able to take advantage of lower weekend rates any time from 8 a.m. Saturday until 5 p.m. Sunday."

To place a One-Plus station-to-station call, Rich said, a customer dials "11", plus the area code (if different from his own) and the phone number of the person being called.

Calls placed on Christmas Day stand the best chance of going through quickly if placed before 10 a.m. and between 2 p.m. and 5 p.m.

Special holiday rates—equivalent to regular evening rates—will be in effect between 8 a.m. and 11 p.m. on Christmas. This applies to all types of long distance calls except operator-assisted, intrastate calls.

Rates for direct-dialed One-Plus calls are lower during all time periods than rates for operator-assisted calls. "If you travel by phone, you won't have to make reservations," Rich said. "And you won't use any gasoline making your holiday visits. But you'll still have to get on the road early and avoid the rush hours to beat the 'traffic.'"

Everett Flora,
70, succumbs

Everett H. Flora, 70, of 1854 Edwardsville Road, Madison, died at 7:50 a.m. Tuesday at his home. Born in Mattoon, Ill., he had resided in this area 10 years.

He was a 20-year employee of the Norfolk and Western Railroad prior to his retirement in 1970. Mr. Flora was of the Baptist faith.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Edna Heselson and Miss Dorothy Flora, both of Madison; two sons, Jerry Wayne Flora, Granite City, and Everett Howard Flora of Mattoon; and a sister, Mrs. Florence Wilson of Duplo.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Madison housing code advanced

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer
A proposed new housing code for the city of Madison was outlined at the regular City Council meeting Tuesday night and scheduled for adoption in its final form at the next council meeting at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 2.

The discussion and review of the housing regulations was held with Darryl Thompson of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission. Thompson has been meeting with the council's ordinance committee and legal staff to consider the code which is similar to that of University City and based on American Public Health Association recommendations.

The housing code will deal with structures already built and will set minimum standards for safe and sanitary living conditions. When a house or apartment becomes vacant and before a new family may move in, to rent or buy, the dwelling must be inspected and the people planning to live in the structure must obtain an occupancy permit from the city.

The new ordinance will govern such items as lighting, number of windows, minimum electrical outlets, rodent proofing, hot water and space-person requirements. Each alderman was given a copy of the proposed code and was asked by Mayor Mike Sasyk to continue studying the document for any questions or additions so that it may be adopted at the next meeting. Mayor Sasyk reviewed a proposed agreement for establishing a Metro East Regional Treatment Association, for construction of a secondary sewage treatment facility. The mayor noted that as the agreement now stands a board of three will have absolute control, with 12 cities affected having little or no voice.

The plan calls for a three-man board to be created with a representative from the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, the Village of Sauget and East St. Louis. This board would have power to hire, fire and spend, according to Sasyk. The agreement calls for a 14-man advisory board, but the mayor pointed out the advisory board would have no authority. The advisory board would consist of the chief officer of Alorton, Brooklyn, Cahokia, Canteen Township, Caseyville, Centerville, Fairmont City, Madison, National City, Stites Township, Venice, Venice Township and Washington Park.

Sasyk told the council he is asking for a seven-man board to give fairer representation to the cities who will have to pay the bills. Mayor Sasyk asked City Attorney George Filcoff to comment on the proposed agreement. Filcoff replied, "This is really bad. It is so bad it borders on being ridiculous. All they will need is a quorum of two to do whatever they want. This gives a couple of people a lot of power. What this agreement would do is usurp the power of all the communities involved."

The council authorized purchase of a street department vehicle from Brohead Ford who was low bidder with an offer of $3,271. The finance committee reported the bid met all specifications. A bid for $2,917 from the Quad-City Roofing Co., 800 State St., Madison, was referred to the finance committee. No other bids were received. City bills of $28,237 for the period of Dec. 4 to Dec. 18 were approved.

Mrs. Hutchinson dies
Mrs. Lula Jane (Ray) Hutchinson, 67, of 1909 Rhodes St., Madison, Ill. for 10 years, died at 7:10 a.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital where she had been a patient two weeks. A native of Laurel County, Ky., she lived in the Quad Cities several years. She was a member of the City Temple Assembly of God Church. Her husband, Thomas Hutchinson, died in 1959. Survivors include five daughters, Mrs. Gene (Frances) Moore, Tipton, Mo.; Mrs. Robert (Ruby) Kendall, Des Arc, Mo.; Mrs. Bernard (Dorothy) Cristel, Edwardsville; Mrs. Donald (Brenda) Douglas, and Mrs. Ronald (Diana) Dunnivant, both of Madison; two sons, Eugene and James H. Dunnivant, both of Madison; 19 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren and three sisters. Funeral services are given in the obituary column.

VALUABLE RINGS STOLEN
Richard Krause, 1030 Third St., Venice, reported at 6:20 p.m. Tuesday that his house was ransacked and jewelry valued at $800, a radio and a $20 bill were stolen. Entry was gained by prying the screen door and throwing a rock through the back door window.

County election changed

The Madison County Board voted yesterday to consolidate the County Board election with the state and district elections as a money-saving step.

The County Board primary election was to have been Feb. 12 with the general election April 2. The decision extends the terms of the members up for re-election until late in the year.

The state, district and county primary election will be held March 19 with the general election Nov. 5.

The board also agreed to purchase the former Bank of Edwardsville building across from the County Courthouse at Edwardsville at a cost of $170,000. The funds for the purchase will be borrowed on a plan calling for repayment over six years at 4 percent interest.

Included in the bank purchase will be two parking lots for county employees. The building will be remodeled to provide additional county office space.

A proposal to merge seven townships into three new townships was approved and now will be placed on the ballot, probably during the November general election.

The proposal calls for Omphreth, Olive and New Douglas townships to be merged into one, Alhambra and Lee into another, and St. Jacob and Marine into a third township.

who made the motion to refer the recommendations to committee study said the police board action "is only a recommendation," and that the council "doesn't have to pass any of them if it doesn't want to."

The financial problem was suggested by Alderman Clyde Boyd who said the council should have sufficient research of the suggested changes to determine how much the changes would cost. He said the increase in ranks and addition of eight or nine men which would be needed would increase the city's cost outlay.

Parmley's motion to refer the matter to committees carried unanimously by a voice vote. In other action Monday night, the council members argued at length on a proposed resolution that would establish a revised purchasing system requiring department heads to furnish requisitions to City Clerk Robert Stevens on all purchases.

Several aldermen argued the requirement would hamper city workers in some cases where minor purchases are necessary to their duties. Alderman Parmley who is chairman of the council's finance committee, favored the action which he said would enable the city clerk to notify each department head as to how much money had been spent under the city budget.

Parmley said city workers who make purchases for which no requisition is required frequently overspend the budget because the city clerk's office has no way of knowing how much has been spent in the different departments.

Council members decided to send the resolution back to committee to include maximum figures as to how much could be spent on purchases without obtaining requisitions first.

The aldermen also approved on final passage an ordinance establishing emergency vehicular lanes in the commercial area between Feibel and Ponton Roads on the western side of Nameoki Road. The ordinance noted that "owners of these shopping centers already established have tentatively agreed on said traffic lanes."

The lanes are to be marked with appropriate signs to restrict parking or otherwise obstructing the lanes.

SCOUT MEETING OFF The executive board meeting of the Cahokia Mound Boy Scout Council, scheduled for tonight, has been rescheduled for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 27, at the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank.

"But in my opinion, tight budgets have hampered SUE somewhat less than the board's ability to fulfill the long belief of people in this area: that SUE would be free and autonomous from preoccupations of the Board which center in Carbondale."

"It is important to the future development of this area that this university be governed and developed in its own right, rather than subject to the present board's preoccupations."

"SUE cannot develop and be responsive to the needs of the area it serves unless it is free and clear of the present Board of Trustees."

"The dollars invested by local taxpayers in this university are entitled to no less attention than the bill that I will sponsor in January."

"It is my intention, between now and the January session, to discuss my concerns and this bill with other elected officials in this important area of the state as well as with civic leaders concerned about providing public institutions responsive to the people they serve."

"My legislation will establish an eight-member Board of Trustees to be appointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate. One member will be a student representative, as required by legislation during the last legislative session."

"The new board will have all powers and duties over Southern Illinois University at Carbondale which the present board holds."

"The important difference—the inability to fulfill the long belief of people in this area: that SUE would be free and autonomous from preoccupations of the Board which center in Carbondale."

"The new board will simply fulfill the promise made by the present Board of Trustees."

"Almost three years ago, make SUE an autonomous institution second to no one else's preoccupations and respect the sole to the needs of people in the area that invested in its bright," Sen. Vadala bene concluded.

SUE

Illinois have been suffering the loss of stymied development of this university, while the board has become bogged down in its own decision making about how to decentralize.

"Seventeen years ago, the people of this area committed over half a million dollars to bring SUE into existence."

If any of Illinois public universities have such a birthright connection with the people they serve.

"Until four years ago, when the trustees first began 'experimenting' with a decentralization that has never really occurred, the university here was well on its way to becoming an institution capable of serving the diverse needs of this area."

"Since then, however, I have watched while the university's ability to respond to the educational and developmental needs of this region has been steadily stymied."

"Precipitated by the present trustees over decentralization has existed for far too long a time."

"I certainly am aware of the fact that tight budgets in recent years have hampered higher education."

"But in my opinion, tight budgets have hampered SUE somewhat less than the board's ability to fulfill the long belief of people in this area: that SUE would be free and autonomous from preoccupations of the Board which center in Carbondale."

STAMPS

Yule issues growing

By LEA BLAUVELT

A joyous Noel, hingedependers!

Christmas is stamping around the world. Mail bags bulge and postmen groan.

"The colors, beauty and designs of the stamps franking these holiday envelopes rival the artwork of the cards they carry inside. Christmas has moved out of the nursery and into the stamp album to stay. Within the past decade nation after nation has begun issuing annual Noel stamps. It is rapidly becoming a universal custom."

Christmas has now become the latest and most festive traditional holiday celebrated in most parts of the world. But it all began back in the 4th century and was derived from the medieval Christmas Mass. Most authorities agree that it was not celebrated during the first centuries of the Christian church, since Christians were prone to celebrate death, not births, as significant events.

Because the populace would not give up the old Roman feast in honor of the birth of Sol, the Western church in the 5th century, ordered that the day be celebrated as the birth of Christ. Since no one knew the date of His birth, it seemed appropriate. Germanic and Celtic tribes considered the winter solstice the most important point in the year, so they held their Yule festival on the day that greeted the rebirth of the sun. The Yule log, the holy mistletoe and the wassail bowl are all relics of those pre-Christian rites.

The Romans used trees as festival decorations, but the Christmas tree, as such, first showed up on 18th century country estates and it wasn't until the latter part of the 19th century that it moved indoors. The gifts under the tree can be traced to pagan folk tales, too. The dwarf, or brownie, who left them shifted down the years to St. Nicholas, patron saint and guardian of children, to Father Christmas, Kris Kringle and Santa Claus. For some 20 years now his traditional visit to the hearthside has prompted children to leave shoes, plates, baskets, or "stockings hung by the chimney with care" on Christmas eve.

And just what does all of that have to do with philately? The topic has taken over the subject matter of most of the October and November stamp issues each year, that's what. Ten years ago it would have been a slim volume put together and labeled "Christmas on Stamps." Today, prepare shelf space for several thick ones and expect more to come.

may have missed a few of them, he found about one family in every five opposed to the firehouse. On this basis, Hileman told the council, he considered a sizeable majority of the residents in favor of the new firehouse location.

Alderman Sam Whitmer said he could see no reason that the firehouse should be moved to another location. "We have been working for years to accomplish this and I consider this the best available location," Whitmer said. He urged the council to approve the final purchase resolution.

Alderman Emerald Daws and Alderman Ronald Coleman, both of the Seventh Ward, said that so long as the people of their ward were opposed to the plan, neither of them could vote in favor of the Johnson Road and Richmond Avenue location.

On the roll call vote to suspend the rules for final passage, those voting against were Alderman Steve Basarich, William Dallas, Gerald Parmley, Coleman and Daws. Voting in favor were Alderman Walter Nann, Clyde Boyd, Whitmer, Poulos, Everett Morlen, Calude Green, Frank Greenwald and R. E. Robertson.

This 8 to 5 vote in favor was insufficient to approve a rules

Walker said, "Briceland is assuming his new duties at a critical time. We cannot allow protection of the environment to be a casualty of the energy crisis. Heubner to new school post

Tully A. Heubner, director of buildings and grounds for the Granite City School District, was named director of business affairs of the district by a 4-1 vote of the board Tuesday night.

The dissenting vote was cast by Norman Hall, board member, who said he felt other applicants for the job should have been interviewed before the post was filled. The appointment is effective July 1, 1974.

The split vote, which is very rare in the history of the board, came after 11 p.m., following a lengthy executive session.

Board members supporting the "in house" promotion of Heubner, who already works in the board office, said he was a "qualified administrator" and that he was experienced in the post, having served the same function in another school district before coming here and having filled in for Comptroller Victor Anderson for about six months here during Anderson's illness.

As director of business affairs, Heubner is heir-apparent to the comptroller's position when Anderson retires in June 1975.

In casting his dissenting vote, Hall emphasized he felt Heubner was well qualified.

He said, "With all due respect for Mr. Heubner, whom I regard as a very capable and loyal employee, it is my opinion that to make appointment to such a key position in our system without careful scrutiny of the other applicants is not in the best interest of Mr. Heubner, our school system of the taxpayers of this community."

Voting in favor of the appointment were Board President Donald Stucke, Secretary George Moore Sr., Treasurer L. Monroe Worthen and Carl Macios. Arthur L. "Pete" Metcalf and Harold Davis were absent.

The board also approved a new salary scale for school administrators providing raises of less than 3 per cent for most principals and administrators.

The raises for all administrative personnel averaged 3.21 per cent with high school administrators' salaries being increased the most, 5.76 per cent, and junior high school administrators' salaries being upped 4.52 per cent.

Consultants' increases averaged 2 per cent while the increases for central administration personnel averaged 2.12 per cent.

Raises for administrative secretaries averaged 4.8 per cent.

Local cage squads on courts Friday

Three of the area's four variety cage squads will see action tomorrow night. Madison is idle until Thursday, Dec. 27 when it participates in the Edwardsville Tournament. GCHS North travels to Triad (Tro-St. Jacob-Marine) at 6:15 p.m. tomorrow. GCHS South plays host to Belleville East at 6:30 p.m. and Venice will host Gibault of Waterloo at 8:15 p.m.

Cougars aiming for national prominence as harrier team

When the cross country program began at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in 1968, Coach John Flamer initiated the sport with the goal of building a team that would be a national power.

With the results of the 1973 season now in, for the first time that target of national prominence appears in sight.

In the NCAA college division tournament, the Cougars placed 20th of 40 teams, an improvement of 10 places over SIUE's 1972 performance. Such stalwarts as Gary Baxter, who set new school records for four, five, and six miles, led SIUE in its 73 campaign.

Although Baxter will graduate this spring, Flamer is optimistic about SIUE's 1974 prospects. "We are two good runners away from contending for a national title," Flamer predicted.

"If we can come up with those runners among the crop of high school seniors we recruit this spring, we will be among the top teams in the nation. We already have a good nucleus of young runners to work with."

One of the youngsters making up that promising nucleus of harriers is freshman Marc Profanick, a native of Centralia. Profanick came to SIUE after a fine prep career at Centralia High where, in addition to cross country, he competed in the half-mile, mile, and two-mile events in track.

Profanick's best performance included a 2:10 clocking in the 800, a 4:37 effort in the mile, and a 10:30 showing in the two-mile.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Tallest player in Triad's history, is the Knight's pivot man. Droy, in his first four games this year, hit on 44 of 101 field goals, recovered 51 rebounds, and is 19 of 28 from the free-throw line.

Complementing Droy on the court will be 6-3 Rod Zolotor, 6-6 Larry Brase, 6-1 Rick May and Kevin Youngman.

The North Stealers, which utilized the services of eight cagers against Madison, will be without guard Don Lloyd. Lloyd who scored 30 points in the season opening victory over Springfield-Griffin, suffered a knee injury in the third period of Saturday's game.

The GCHS South Warriors will be seeking their first win of the season against the Belleville East Lancers.

East will go into the game with a 1-3 record after downing Belleville Althoff Saturday 63-41 on a basket by senior Chuck Luge with two seconds left in the game. The Lancers latest loss was to East St. Louis by a close 58-54.

Belleville East boasts six seniors on the team—Luge, 6-4 Ken Light, Jeff Boots, who scored 33 points in one early season game, 6-1 Craig Agne, 6-2 Mike Schaab, and 5-9 Dennis Ruetter. Junior Jeff Hannak at 6-0 rounds out the possible starters.

The Warriors' only returning letterman Mike Martinez scored only two points in South's 55-51 loss to Quincy Saturday, but was clicking all the way Saturday against Belleville West with 20 points. Ken Bertrand totaled 18 points Friday and 14 in Saturday's 61-61 loss to Belleville West.

Venice, which dropped a 69-63 game to Vashon of St. Louis Saturday, will host the Hawks of Gibault.

The Waterloo squad is winless in six outings, the latest a 65-59 defeat at Steeleville in which 6-1 sophomore Tom Schmidt tallied 22 points. Schmidt is averaging 40 per cent of his field goal attempts and 90 per cent from the free-throw line.

Tomorrow's match with Gibault is a do-or-die situation for the Red Devils, who have to win to maintain an edge in the win column. Venice now is 2-2 after losing to Vashon. The only other loss was a close 48-46 to Madison.

The Red Devils will be led into action by all-star Ron Henry who has been averaging 28 points a game in his last three outings.

Joining Henry on the court will be J. B. Harmon, Tony Sittin, Mike Logan, and Reggie Gardner.

Chiefs only local winners

The eighth grade cagers of Prather Junior High, winless in their last five outings, downed Collinsville North, 34-26 Tuesday, and were the only local squad members posting a victory that day.

Griggs led the Collinsville Webster 34-25 at the eighth grade level and Coolidge dropped its eighth grade game to Edwardsville 34-42.

With the game tied at 29-29 in the final minutes of play, the Prather Chiefs made good five free throws besting Collinsville North. Tim Welch led the winners in scoring with eight points and recovered 16 rebounds for Prather. Collinsville North's defeat was the first in two years of competition. Its last loss was at the hands of Madison Major High School in 1971.

Prather's seventh grade squad didn't fair as well against Collinsville North, failing to rally behind the seven points scored by Bill Tinsley as it lost 32-21.

The Grigsby Gators were at Collinsville Webster the same night and split a pair. Rich Willard scored 11 points for the eighth grade squad but Webster pulled out in front late in the final period to win 34-25. Brian Gabbie totaled nine points and Russ Chappell seven to lead the seventh grade cagers to a 26-15 victory over Webster in the game.

North underclassmen defeat Duo squads

The freshmen and sophomore cagers of GCHS North defeated Duo Monday, the freshmen taking their first win of the season 55-42 and the soph squad posting its third consecutive win, 36-37 over Duo.

Ten players scored for the sophomore Stealers to lead Duo in all four periods, 26-4, 18-4, 20-13 and 22-4, with Tom Schocker making 16 points to top the team in scoring. Other soph point makers were: Chris Gabbie, 13; Rick Denare, 12; James Woodward, 10; Darrell Page, Rick Sprinkle, Bryan Murphy and Tim Luehman, eight each, Larry Schlicher, three, and Tim Hart, one.

The North freshmen now have a 1-2 record. They bounced back from a 9-6 defeat in the first period to out score Duo, 18-10 and 22-11, in the second and third quarters. North posted nine points to the enemy's 12 in the final period to win the game.

The three Stealer cagers tallied points in double figures, Gary Paul, 14, and Greg Corey and Chris Page, 10 apiece. Other North freshmen who scored were: Leo Pelek, seven; Brian Smith, six; Jerry Barnett, five; Robert Schneke, two; and Kevin Marcus, one.

The two local squads play host to Wood River today at 6 p.m. at the new high school.

2 to officiate

Two Granite Cityans, Rich Wade and Andy Sullivan, have been named to officiate 24 games in the Edwardsville Holiday Basketball Classic Dec. 27, 28 and 29 at Edwardsville High School, in which GCHS North and Madison High School will participate.

The two men have been assigned to the consolation finals which begin on Saturday, Dec. 29.

Crown to Victory gridders

For the second consecutive year, the Victory Tavern flag football team has captured first place honors in the Belleville football league, posting an 11-1 season record.

The Madison team members have voted Nick Jakich of Granite City as the club's most valuable player, and selected Joe Wallace as rookie of the year.

Jakich was a former All-American selection in college basketball and had never played football until joining the local squad this year.

Wallace, a graduate of Peru University in Nebraska, was an all-state football player in his varsity year at Granite City High School.

The squad's offensive lineup is: Quarterback—Kevin McGovern, who lettered at GCHS; RB—Jakich; RB—Dale Clinton, a graduate of Madison High; TE—Charlie Stephens, a graduate of GCHS; SE—Neil Podoba, a Madison High graduate; LG—Tim Wallace, Granite City; RG—Joe Wallace; Center—Bert Armour, a former all-star at Madison High.

The league champions will compete Saturday, Dec. 22, against three other area teams in the Belleville YMCA Championship playoffs, at Belleville's Southside Park, two blocks north of Route 158, beginning at noon.

Prather undefeated

The Prather Junior High Chiefs remain undefeated in wrestling competition after capturing their third consecutive victory last week, 42-24, over Edwardsville.

In defeating Edwardsville, team members of the Chiefs, with winning scores (pins indicated by times) in 75 pounds—Brian Basore, 3:28; 82—Andy McGovern, 4:08; 98—Sam Perkins, 21:31; 106—Doug Whitworth, 4:44; draw, 126—Tom Ellison, 8:54; 144—Tom Speece, 3:11; 155—Myron Schamel, 4:27; 170—Mark Lempp, 2:54; heavyweight—Louis Medley won by default.

The youth skated to a first, second and fourth places in three sprints to accumulate enough points for the overall first place win in his division.

Watson first entered speed skating competition in 1970 and went on to take the Missouri State Championship that year.

He is a good candidate to repeat this season, being the current point leader in the St. Louis city series championship division.

His sister, Kim also was a participant in last weekend's skating event.

Other first round pairings in the single elimination competition are: St. Francis of Jerseyville vs. Peter & Paul of Collinsville, the defending champion, at 1:15 p.m.; St. Mathew of Alton vs. St. Boniface of Edwardsville at 3 p.m.; St. Mary of Alton vs. St. Norbert of Hardin at 7:30 p.m., and Our Lady Queen of Peace of Bethalto vs. Jerseyville's Holy Ghost at 8:45 p.m.

Eight teams will pair off in the quarter finals on Sunday, Dec. 23, beginning at 4 p.m., with the winners advancing to the semi-finals at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, Dec. 26. The two squads emerging victorious in the semi-finals will clash for the championship at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Dec. 27.

Five of the top overall players will be named to the all-tournament team and presented with individual awards. Trophies will be awarded to the top four finishing cage squads.

The holiday cage tournament is being hosted by Marquette High School, 219 E. Fourth St., Alton.

Griggs, a junior majoring in social sciences, is leading the CMC team in rebounds, with 69 in five games.

South matmen face tough Ritenour

Five undefeated Warrior grapplers will lead Granite City High School South into battle at 9 p.m. Saturday against Ritenour of St. Louis in quest of season victory number eight.

The Warriors now are 7-0 this season after posting back-to-back victories during the weekend over Springfield Southeast and Normandy. Woody Halbrook, 98 pound junior in his first year with the local squad, heads the five unbeaten wrestlers. He blitzed his Springfield Southeast opponent in 13 seconds Friday to record the third fastest pin in Granite City history. It was his sixth pin of the season, four in less than one minute. Halbrook captured his only other match on a 10-6 decision.

Pat McMillan, at 112, last year's 95 pound conference champion, has won four on decisions, two with pins, and one by forfeit. 126 pounder John Niebur, conference district sectional champion and fifth in state last year, has recorded one win by a pin and the rest on decisions. Don Heath, at 132, has four pins and three decision victories under his belt, and 165 pound grappler John Avedisian has two by pins, one default and four decisions. Two of his wins on decisions were by only one point.

Coch William Schmitt, in his 24th year at South, told the Press-Record, "Tough is the only word to describe Ritenour. They have a good chance of being the only school capable of knocking us off."

"Ritenour has a very good 119 pound wrestler, a former state champion in the 185 class and a heavy-weight who placed high in state competition." Schmitt has been wrong in his predictions on occasion. At the beginning of the season he stated, "It's going to be a very tough season. We've had 42 consecutive victories, but I don't know if we'll be able to add much to that."

The Warriors will be seeking their 50th consecutive dual victory Saturday, a record which spans a three year period.

South cage frosh lose two contests

The freshman cage squad of Granite City High School South dropped a doubleheader at Belleville West Tuesday; the "A" squad lost 54-41, and the "B" squad 31-20. The "A" squad, down 14-11 at the end of the first period, rallied to take a slim 35-34 halftime lead. South felt behind 38-32 in the third period and scored only 12 points to the enemy's 16 in the final period. South was led in scoring by Dave Rhodes with 15 points, Keith Champion 14 and Paul Evans 10.

Another close game at West saw the "B" South freshmen score four points in the second period to tie at 14-14 after holding a 10-7 first quarter lead over West. It was 16-16 after three periods.

Two "B" squad players tied for scoring honors with six points apiece—Roland Hurt and John Slay. The freshmen were to host Belleville East last night before taking a break for the holidays, but that contest had to be cancelled due to the snow.

Steelers try for 5th and 6th wins

Granite City High School North wrestlers will attempt to capture their fifth and sixth consecutive mat victories tomorrow and Saturday.

The North Steelers, now 4-1, host McCluer High School of St. Louis at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow and then travel to East St. Louis to clash with the Flyers at 10 a.m. Saturday.

North mat mentor Walt Whitaker remarked today, "McCluer is a young school, like us, but consists of nearly all seniors."

"They lost 28-23 to Hazelwood during the weekend, even though 126 pounder Mike Misuraca pinned his opponent in 32 seconds."

Whitaker said he would probably have to move undefeated Phil Shands up from the 119 pound class to meet Misuraca.

The North grapplers face a tough East St. Louis squad the next day. The Flyers are fresh from a 4-14 victory over Soldan of St. Louis.

"East St. Louis," speculates

Whitaker, "will give us tough competition in the lower and heavy-weight classes."

The Steelers should have little trouble in those weight divisions, however, as four undefeated matmen fill those positions. They are Niel Pierson at 105 pounds; 112 pounder Rudy Pyle; Eric Schmisser at 119; and heavy-weight John McMillan.

The fierce battle for positions in the McCluer Ice Hockey Association point standings continues this weekend at the Wilson Park Ice Rink.

Granite City and Wood River clash in the first game tomorrow at 10:20 p.m., Alton and Assumption follow with an 11:45 p.m. game, and at 1:10 a.m. Saturday Collinsville and Belleville square off on the ice. Any combination of wins or losses could affect the local Granite City Squad. A loss tomorrow to Wood River would place the two teams in a third place tie, or a win by Granite and a loss by Assumption would result in Granite City and Assumption deadlocked in second place. However, a win by the local team and a win by Assumption over Alton would leave GC all alone in third and Alton and Assumption tied in the number one spot.

The current standings just released by the association show Alton first (5-0 record), Assumption second (4-1), Granite City third (3-2), Wood River fourth (2-3), Collinsville fifth (1-4) and Belleville sixth (0-5).

Basketball and wrestling meets for GCHS South, GCHS North and Venice High have not been cancelled. The McCluer Ice Hockey competition tomorrow night at Wilson Park Ice Rink still is scheduled to be held.

The inclement weather was blamed for the cancellation of yesterday's junior high wrestling meets, GCHS South's underclassmen basketball game and all park district sports competition.

Protest player

Edwardsville Junior High School athletic officials this week filed a protest with the Madison County Junior Basketball Conference charging that Madison Junior High School is using an ineligible player on its eighth grade team.

Madison defeated Edwardsville last week, increasing the Madison record to 5-1 and giving it first place in the conference. If Madison loses the protest, it will have to forfeit all of its victories this season and will be removed from first place.

The conference officials, two from each member school, postponed a vote this week because of inclement weather, and will rule on the issue the second week of January.

Rev. T.F. Wallace dies

The Rev. Thomas F. Wallace, 77, the father of two Granite City residents and a patient at the Colonial Nursing Home in Maryville, was found dead in a wooded area about one mile from the nursing facility about midnight Tuesday.

The retired Assembly of God minister was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 1:07 a.m. Wednesday.

A son, George Wallace of Granite City, said his father apparently left the nursing home about 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. Personnel at the home failed to locate him immediately and a search was organized and the family was notified.

Mr. Wallace gave high praise to members of the Glen Carbon and Maryville police departments who scoured the area for several hours.

The Rev. Wallace was discovered in the wooded region some distance at the rear of the nursing home and north of Interstate 70, according to his son.

Although partially dressed and wearing shoes and socks, the Rev. Wallace was not appropriately clothed to protect him from Tuesday evening's freezing rain, his son said.

The Rev. Wallace was born in Clinton, Ark. He had resided in Mountain View, Ark., and had served as a minister for 35 years with the Assembly of God Churches in the Arkansas area.

He had lived at the nursing home in Maryville the past three years. His wife, Mrs. Maudie Wallace, also is a patient at the same facility.

Beside his wife, he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Flora Salyers of Granite City; five sons, Jack Wallace of Flint, Mich., Thomas Wallace Jr., South Haven, Mich., Lowell and George Wallace of Granite City and Vernon Wallace of San Diego, Calif.; one brother, Felix Wallace of Mountain View, Ark.; two sisters, Mrs. Katie McClung, Mountain View, and Mrs. Jane Satterfield, Lake City, Ark.; 25 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

WORKERS FILE SUITS

Three men have filed suits against Terminal Railroad Association, all alleging they were injured in separate incidents when attempting to center drawbars which they say failed to operate properly. Each was a switchman at that time.

Each suit seeks $150,000.

The suits were filed by LeRoy Hallows who said he was hurt Nov. 6, V.E. Adams who alleges injuries Nov. 28, and Lloyd J. Bunker who was hurt Dec. 3, according to the suit he filed.

TV SERIES SUNDAY ON ILLINOIS EDUCATION

A new film series, "Innovative Education in Illinois," is to be telecast Sundays at 5:30 p.m. beginning Dec. 23 on Channel 9.

Produced by the Illinois Department of Media Services and Channel 9, the ten-part series is designed to help share specific educational experiments from Illinois school districts with instructors throughout the bi-state area.

SUIT AGAINST DRIVER

A $75,000 lawsuit has been filed on behalf of Clyde Frank Miller, a minor, by his father Herman H. Miller Jr., against Stephen Shipcoff. The suit charges that on March 16, the boy was walking across Edwardsville Road in the 1300 block when he was struck by Shipcoff's car. Boyant injuries to the boy are alleged.

Dianna L. Barnhart and Jack L. Yates are wed

The wedding of Miss Dianna Lynn Barnhart and Jack L. Yates was solemnized on Nov. 7 in a double ring ceremony performed by an uncle of the bride, the Rev. Lorton George, in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Barnhart, 2281 Shirlene Drive. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Shelton, 2520 E. 245th St.

Escorted down the home's spiral staircase and given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Barnhart selected a Chantilly lace gown designed with an Empire bodice, a high neckline accented with iridescent sequins and long bishop sleeves.

A scalloped hemline enhanced the A-line skirt that extended into a full sweep train. She wore a Juliet cap to secure her melody length veil edged in matching lace and she carried a nosegay of pink and yellow roses, baby breath and greenery, encircled with a garland of lace and trailing long satin streamers.

Party for handicapped

A Christmas party for handicapped youngsters was given by the Granite City Society for Crippled Children in Fellowship Hall at St. John's United Church of Christ during the weekend.

The children were welcomed by Louis Paschoff, president of the Society, and Barbara Watz, chairman of the event.

Linda Polette, a troop leader of Girl Scout Troop Three, was a "clown from Toyland," entertaining the guests and giving out balloons, gum and candy.

The "Great Van Dyck," a magician, presented a program of magic tricks assisted by his daughter, Carol Van Dyck.

Barbara Watz appeared as Santa Claus, greeting the children and distributing gifts to the handicapped youngsters. Ice cream, cake and punch were served by Santa, the clown, and Mrs. Fanny Epstein and Mrs. Reyth Stallings.

These arranging the party were Barbara Watz, Linda Polette, the Rev. Paul Surbey, Mildred Talley, Reyth Stallings, Bill and Barbara Burns, Leo Lipe, Avery Schermer, Girl Scout Neighborhood Three, Mrs. Lily Chaboude and Louis Paschoff.

HEALTH'S-A-POPPIN' Touch spreads common cold

By MARION WELLS

When was the last time someone came up to you, shook your hand warmly, and said, "Don't get too close to me, I've got a cold?"

According to the latest findings, you'd better tell your friend to keep his hands to himself. Researchers say we often "catch" colds, not from being coughed or sneezed on, but by touching the skin of an infected person and then putting our hands to our own eyes, nose or mouth.

In one study it was found that rhinovirus, which causes about one out of every three colds in adults, was present on the hands of four out of 10 people tested. Apparently, rhinovirus can also live happily on such dry surfaces as wood, plastic and metal.

When volunteers handled such infected surfaces and then fingered their nostrils, they came down with a cold. Wash your hands frequently if you have a cold.

Infection by touch is only one of the uncommonly known facts about the common cold, an illness which reportedly robs us of more time on the job than any other. Would you per cent of the active families donate a unit of blood; the entire church membership is covered for blood needs for the year, free of charge.

The Red Cross bloodmobile unit is scheduled to visit Granite City on three dates this month—Dec. 26, 27 and 28, with all three days scheduled at St. Elizabeth's Church, 2100 Pontoon Road.

Mrs. Gargac said volunteer physicians and nurses will aid the volunteer donors as well as lay people on all three days. Telephone volunteers from the churches have called their fellow church members asking for donors.

Churches taking part in the December drive are: First Presbyterian, St. John United, Niedringhaus Methodist, Concordia Lutheran, St. Elizabeth's, Wamock Presbyterian, Suburban Baptist, Mitchell First Baptist, Central Christian and St. Peter Evangelical United.

Other churches from the summer visit schedule also will be sending donors.

Those desiring more information may call Mrs. Gargac, 877-3156, or the chapter office, 452-7184.

Following a continuing festive tradition, holiday bank visitors are served coffee and holiday treats beginning a week before Christmas and continuing through New Year's Eve.

JOURNEY TO BETHLEHEM from 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 23, at the Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows, Highway 460. The donkey and sheep will be part of the observance. An outdoor musical program by the Belleville Philharmonic Choral will be followed by the audience walking with specially-designed lighted candleholders to tableaux scenes for group singing of appropriate carols. There will be bonfires and hot chocolate, and the Black Knights will entertain at a Nativity scene with a six-piece brass choir.

Tavern, ballot issue studied

State's Attorney Nicholas Byron said Tuesday he will have an assistant, Rod Pitts, study aspects of the candidacy of Von Doe Cruse of Granite City for the Democratic nomination as Madison County clerk. He is owner and licensee of Jacobsmeyer's Tavern.

Points being raised by Edwardsville opponent of Cruse are his purchase of two $25 tickets for he and his wife to attend the annual County Democratic dinner dance at Venice this fall, and speculation that he may contribute several thousands dollars to the county party as his share of 1974 campaign costs.

State law bans a liquor licensee from paying or contributing to party and candidate expenses. Cruse denies making any political contributions during the six years he has been licensee. He described the dinner dance as a social activity.

He said if there is any pooling of campaign funds it will be to obtain economic benefit in the form of advertising, literature and similar costs.

County Democratic Chairman Walter T. Simmons said there will be no illegal financial transactions.

Other Christmas specials include "Christmas 1783," a half-hour historic special Sunday at 10 p.m.

Arthur Fielder and the Boston Pops Orchestra will present a Christmas concert at 6 p.m. Sunday.

Cancel treatment meet

A meeting of mayors and township supervisors of agencies within the East Side Levee and Sanitary District to discuss a proposal for a regional secondary sewage treatment program was cancelled Wednesday night because of the inclement weather.

The meeting was arranged by Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison who has expressed dissatisfaction with a proposed agreement for setting up a regional treatment association of three members to administer the program. The meeting was to have been held in the Madison Fire Hall.

Mayor Sasyk said he will call the meeting on another date soon.

The regional treatment program was outlined in a meeting of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District board of trustees Tuesday morning at which Jack Scoville, board president, said the plan eventually "would swallow the levee and sanitary district."

The plan proposes the establishment of the Metro-East Regional Treatment Association, which would be made up of Mayor James Williams of East St. Louis, Mayor Paul Sauger of Sauget and Charles Meyers, levee district trustee.

These three officials would head the association because the existing primary treatment plants are in the levee district, the city of East St. Louis and the village of Sauget.

An advisory council of mayors in communities within the levee district, which would be served by the secondary treatment program, would help administer operation of the system.

The treatment association, with the aid of the advisory council, would ask the Illinois General Assembly for authority to levy taxes and issue bonds to finance the association's share of the plant construction cost. Such authority would be needed because the levee district board authority has been removed by the state legislature and the district therefore would be unable to loan the bonds for treatment plant costs.

Scoville said the mayors have been suggested as the advisory body because they represent the communities that would be served and would answer to their constituents.

The association plan is the outgrowth of initial recommendations by the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission for an agency to establish a regional secondary sewage treatment plant.

Scoville said the estimated cost of $42 million may be considered a conservative estimate because of rising construction costs. He noted that the state is not likely to finance 25 percent of the cost. Federal participation is expected to provide 75 percent of cost, he said.

He suggested that the state loan the MERTA agency $8 million or 25 percent of the cost, if the state does not give the agency a grant.

For tree lights, turn off some other indoor lights

Inside Christmas tree lights can be used and still comply with federal guidelines which have been set up to conserve energy, Gov. Dan Walker said this week.

The federal government has asked people not to use outdoor lighting this Christmas because of the energy crisis, and Walker said many people have the impression that they should not use inside lights on their trees.

Families can comply with federal guidelines and still enjoy inside Christmas tree lights," the governor said, "simply by counting up the watts used by the lights on the tree and turning off light bulbs that use an equivalent number of watts in other areas of their homes."

The screw-in type bulb uses an average of six watts each. A family can multiply the number of bulbs on the tree by six and turn off house light bulbs of equivalent wattage, the governor noted.

As to sub-miniature or "candle" bulbs, a string of 35 midsize lights might use as few as 28 watts.

The following tips are being offered for safe use of Christmas lights:

Christmas lights generate heat that can build up over a period of time, so keep them well spaced and ventilated.

Prevent prolonged contact with furniture, drapes and carpets.

Check extension cords and be sure they don't have cracked insulation, frayed wires or damaged sockets.

Avoid placing too great a load on a single circuit. Most homes are designed to tolerate 15 amps or 1,800 watts. If other lamps or appliances are on the same circuit, consider them in calculating the total load.

Don't work on string lights while the plug is still connected.

Don't stretch string lights or extension wiring.

Don't use flood lights on or near flammable material.

Don't place electrical fixtures within a child's accessibility.

Do use rubber light socket gaskets where provided, and replace as needed.

Do make certain that lamps are not loose in their sockets.

Has Watergate deadened the Christmas spirit?

By RON WELLS

Have Americans lost the Christmas Spirit? Many people are saying yes and giving a variety of reasons. Dr. Thomas Rusk, associate professor of psychiatry at the University of California at San Diego and medical director for the Western Institute of Human Resources believes that the spirit is there waiting to be released.

"The question is, 'Was there ever any Christmas Spirit?' and the answer is 'Yes,'" he said in an interview. "But as people grow older they tend to become more conservative and more concerned with the problems of living."

"They also tend to forget the bad times and pain they may have experienced in their youth and recall only the 'good old days,'" said Rusk. "What they remember about Christmas is what it meant to them as kids rather than what it should mean to them today."

"Things like Watergate, war and urban living," Dr. Rusk added, tend to deaden a person's appreciation of Christmas. He begins to feel that the good times — and the good Christmas — are part of a never-to-be-recovered past.

Dr. Rusk, a Jew, had the unique experience of celebrating both Christmas and Hanukkah as a boy.

"My closest friend was a Scotch Catholic," recalled Rusk. "I would sleep over at his house at Christmas and eat dinner and exchange gifts and celebrate the holiday just like one of the family and he'd do the same over at my house during Hanukkah."

Rusk said that adults often equate Christmas with childhood, so it's certainly isn't something which was just invented by Hallmark or Matel.

To Rusk, the examples of changing family separation and commercialism are but symptoms of a greater ill which he believes may be the uncaring cause for the waning of Christmas Spirit in America.

"Since Korea the United States has been involved in one hot war after another and the American public has come to doubt that peace on earth is even possible," said Rusk.

"As a result, Americans have gotten more and more depressed and frustrated."

"Whenever a people or a nation has a discrepancy between professed ideals and behavior then there is embarrassment and guilt," said Rusk. "Most people today are experiencing embarrassment and guilt not only about our international role but about the actions and attitudes of our leaders in Washington."

"These factors would account for the rise in the commercialism of Christmas in recent years," he said, "as well as people recalling or re-living Christmases of their youth."

Rusk believes that if the United States could experience a period of international and domestic tranquility the Christmas Spirit which is bottled up inside most people would be released.

"Then," he said, "you'd see Christmas celebrated with happiness and sincerity like you've never seen before."

Gas fumes in home subside

Jack Tolliver, Venice engineer, reported to the Venice City Council at its meeting Tuesday night that gas fumes at the home of Charles Berger, 1034 Third St., still are noticeable, but not to the extent they were before the drains were blocked off.

The incidence of gas fumes in the residence, apparently because of a sewer line problem, was reported to Venice aldermen in a previous meeting. Tolliver was instructed at that time to investigate the matter and seek a solution.

The treasurer's report for November was approved. It listed receipts for the month of $111,481, including $100,000 from a fund transfer from the working cash fund to the general fund. Expenditures amounted to $40,663.

The arrest report for November listed 37 adult arrests and five juvenile arrests, and said that a check for $44 in fines had been received from the circuit court clerk.

City employees and officials will meet today at 6:45 p.m. in the city garage to pack Christmas baskets for 200 needy Venice families.

The council will meet again on Thursday, Dec. 27, at 7:30 p.m.

Venice Technical Center budget gets state okay

The Venice Board of Education will resubmit a school tax rate increase for voter approval, probably in January, it was decided at a board meeting Monday night.

In other action, board members were informed of state approval of a $256,881 partial budget for operation of Venice Lincoln Technical Center, an adult vocational school financed with federal and state funds.

The proposed increase of 80 cents per $100 assessed valuation was defeated by voters 250 to 211 on Dec. 7. Venice residents will be asked to approve the same amount next month, it was learned.

A $120 rate increase for educational purposes was defeated 290 to 91 on June 30.

In canvassing the Dec. 7 election results this week, voters cast a total of 402 ballots. It was shown, including 211 "yes" votes and 250 "no."

Twenty-one ballots were spoiled.

Specific voting at the two polling places was as follows: Precinct One, Venice Recreation Center — 174 "yes"; 232 "no"; 18 spoiled, totaling 424.

Precinct Two, Eagle Park Improvement Association Building, Eagle Park Acres — 37 "yes"; 18 "no"; three spoiled, totaling 58.

An 80-cent increase would mean $8 in added taxes per year to a homeowner whose property is assessed at $10,000. The present school tax rate is $2.05 per $100 assessed valuation which produces $205.00. The additional 80 cents would bring in an added $250,000 for the educational fund.

The Venice-Lincoln budget, approved by state officials to operate the adult facility from September 1973 to June 30, 1974, includes $198,824 in public aid financing; $25,687 for child care; and $35,220 for transportation. Still to be approved is a Title III budget request for a minimum of $51,000, Supt. of Schools John O. Pier explained.

Board members voted to dismiss classes at the close of the school day Wednesday, resuming sessions Jan. 2, and to acquire a 1974 driver education vehicle from Big 4 Chevrolet, Collinsville, under a no-cost plan to the Venice District, excluding oil and grease work.

Fred Rumpf, school board building committee chairman, agreed to meet with Venice school administrators during the Christmas holidays to prepare plans for the second phase in district projects to update school premises to meet state fire and safety regulations.

Most wiring projects have been completed with plumbing repair work and fixture replacements to be scheduled during the next phase.

Pier said some pipes in the high school date back to the time the addition was constructed in 1917. "These are causing problems, particularly in restroom areas," he told the board.

Water problems at Venice-Lincoln Center also were reviewed. Only digging a hole near the South 4th Street facility will disclose whether a storm sewer line has ruptured beneath or outside the building, Pier said.

At the present time he added, the water table in that vicinity still is too high to enable a thorough investigation to be made, the superintendent said. The Venice School District has received a total of $1,960 to date from federal sources to aid in repairing damage and general clean-up work following the flood last spring. Further funds would be made available to the district should additional repairs be necessary, Pier said.

$500 BURGLARY
Alfred Turner, 82 Grenzer Homes, Madison, reported to police that thieves took several items of clothing, a wrist watch and cameras with a total value of $500 from his apartment. Entry was made by forcing a rear door.

'BETHLEHEM' Famed carol was composed in dream

By ERMA PERRY

"Oh, Little Town of Bethlehem, how still we see thee lie. Above thy deep and dreamless sleep, the silent stars go by." The words and music to this lovely Christmas carol were written in Philadelphia in 1818.

The young pastor of the Church of the Holy Trinity was recalling his first view of Christ's birthplace as he rode toward it on horseback from Jerusalem.

Phillips Brooks was 26 when he was called from a smaller Philadelphia church, where his sermons had attracted attention, to be rector of fashionable Holy Trinity on Rittenhouse Square. At 30 he took a leave of absence and traveled through Europe and the Holy Land. It was not until three years later that he wrote down the words to the famous carol.

He was preparing Christmas services for the young people when he wrote down these four stanzas.

"See what you can do with them," he said to his organist, Lewis H. Redner, who had already written the music for God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen for another winter festival. The day before the Christmas rehearsals were to begin, Brooks asked if the music had been finished.

"Not yet," replied Redner, "but you will have it in the morning." Besides being Sunday organist and weekday real estate broker, Redner taught Sunday School, later becoming superintendent.

"Late that night," wrote the organist, "I was roused from sleep hearing an angel strain whispering in my ear. Seizing a sheet of paper, I jotted down the treble of the tune as we know it now. Before going to church the next morning, I filled in the harmony. Neither Mr. Brooks nor I ever thought the carol or the music would live beyond that Christmas in 1818."

When, after 8 years, Brooks left Holy Trinity, he brought the carol with him back to Boston. It soon became a favorite of New England churches of all denominations. To the last, Redner's prayer, "How silently, how silently, the wondrous gift is given. So God imparts to human hearts the blessings of his Heaven. No ear may hear his coming, but in this world of sin, where o'er us reigns the night, the dear Christ enters in."

When the corner stone for the National Cathedral in Washington, D.C., was laid, this was the song that was sung.

What has been thought of as the original copy of the words and music of "Oh, Little Town of Bethlehem" bound in red leather was auctioned off at Samuel T. Freeman & Co. in Philadelphia, November 18, 1924. This consisted of five stanzas, eight lines each and was bought by a dealer for $80. The dealer later moved to Washington, D.C., where he died.

Although an intense search was made, this manuscript was never located. ("If the vestry of the church had only been aware of this sale, it would have bid much higher.")

Phillips Brooks was born in Boston on December 13, 1813. Many of his ancestors had been clergymen so he received the finest education his parents could select for him. He was sent to Boston Latin and later was graduated from Harvard. A short stint back at the Holy Land convinced him that he was no teacher. In fact, he failed miserably.

So he resumed his studies, attending the Alexandria Seminary in Virginia where he studied to become an Episcopal minister.

He made such a name for himself in Philadelphia that he was called back to his native city of Boston where his preaching became legendary. Bostonians still quote "what Phillips Brooks said." One such is the story of his coming out of church one Sunday morning and seeing a drunk lying in the gutter.

"By the grace of God am I," said Brooks.

His congregation built him the beautiful cathedral in then fashionable Back Bay. It too was called Trinity and stands today on Copley Square across from the Boston Public Library.

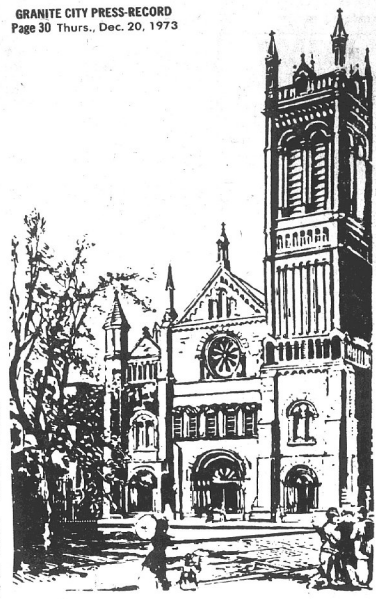

In 1891 Brooks became Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts. He threw into his work finally took it all, and he died four years later at age 59.

Much of the popularity of "Oh, Little Town of Bethlehem" is due to the music of Lewis H. Redner. Had it been less inspired one might never have heard Brooks' carol.

Redner never married but was very popular with the congregation and the Divinity School. To the last, he brought bushel baskets of peanuts, probably quite a treat in those days.

He was 77 years old when he died fifteen years after his death on Aug. 29, 1908 at the Marlborough-Blenheim Hotel in Atlantic City where he had gone to recuperate from an illness. He was 77 years old when he died. Burial was from the Church he had loved and attended for so many years and interment was in Woodlands Cemetery.

Nothing on his stone indicates that this was the composer of the music for the famous carol.

TRINITY CHURCH --- This is the church where Phillips Brooks, the famed preacher, composed "Oh, Little Town of Bethlehem" 105 years ago. The Church of the Holy Trinity is in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

FIRE WARNING How to keep your Christmas safe

By MARGUERITE SULLIVAN

The holiday season brings cheer but it can also bring tragedy in fires if precautions aren't taken.

Firemen warn that every Christmas brings an increase in the number of fires, caused by Christmas trees and other decorations that can quickly go up in flames.

For fire safety, trees are the most desirable, fireproof trees because they are noncombustible. However, there is a potential danger of electric shock if strings of lights are strung on metal trees.

If sharp metal edges or tips come in contact with broken bulbs or terminal openings of lamp holders, the entire tree can become electrically charged.

Ideally, metal trees should be illuminated by remotely located spotlights. Purchasers should require evidence that plastic and metalized plastic trees are made of materials that burn slowly.

When choosing a natural Christmas tree, firemen say do not purchase a larger tree than is actually needed. A Christmas tree is essentially fuel, and excessive fuel in any location is dangerous.

Trees processed with a flame retardant chemical are less hazardous.

The fire department safety checklist includes:

Give the tree the freshest test before purchasing: check to see that branches bend without breaking and the needles don't fall when the branches are shaken.

Cut tree trunk at a 45 degree angle and stand the tree in water or damp sand to retard the drying process.

Lengthwise saw cuts in the tree's base will help it absorb water.

Put the tree as far from a source of heat as possible and don't place it near a stairway or exit door.

Plan what to do if a fire occurs.

Don't use candles or other types of open flame decorations on or near the Christmas tree.

Don't operate toy trains, motors or engines under or near Christmas trees.

Check Christmas lights each year for frayed wires, loose connections and broken or damaged sockets before using.

All Christmas displays should derive current from a 15 ampere circuit.

Provide a control switch between the source of electricity and Christmas displays or tree lights.

Check the tree periodically to see if any needles near the lights have started to turn brown. If so change their locations.

Put other Christmas decorations near the ceiling rather than near chairs and other places where people may smoke.

Use noncombustible decorations such as metal, glass, asbestos.

If using lights in window, don't use candles and keep curtains at least six inches from any light.

Don't use polystyrene foam for candle holders.

Get Christmas costumes that have been fireproofed.

Watch out for nitro cellulose plastic toys and other gifts that may easily ignite.

Take wrapping from opened gifts as soon as possible and store them outside for regular rubbish collection.

Discard trees as soon as possible after Christmas by placing them out for collection by the city Sanitation Department. If the tree is more than five feet tall chop it in two pieces.

buying cards to a good cause.

Save old cards for decorating next year, making your own cards, crafts for children, or use the backs for grocery lists and phone pads.

Reuse items from your home for personalized gift wrapping, decorated bags, for instance, or old road maps, sheet music, your favorite page of the newspaper. Try fabrics for gift wrapping.

Dishtowels are useful, colorful, full prints, reusable. Tie it up with recyclable yarn instead of ribbon.

Help save the trees. Buy a living Christmas tree and plant it or donate it to a park or school.

Some big news from One A.D.

By SAM STEWART

"History records that St. Luke was a physician, not a newspaperman, but his work in the Gospel according to St. Luke is still regarded as a good story by a good reporter. Still, one can't help wondering how a 20th Century newsman would have reported the event we celebrate today. Maybe something like this..."

BETHLEHEM, Judea — The relationship of unprecedented wonders in the heavens over Judea to the birth of a child in Bethlehem has been studied today.

That more than coincidence was involved was established by the stories of eye-witnesses.

These facts stand out from a piecing-together of background information:

Because of a decree from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be taxed, citizens everywhere had converged upon their own cities to pay their taxes. The decree had been handed along to the people through Cyrenius, governor of Syria.

Among those coming to Bethlehem to pay their tax was Joseph, who had come from Galilee, out of the City of Nazareth, unto Bethlehem, the City of David, inasmuch as he was of the house and lineage of David.

Joseph, accompanied by his expectant wife, Mary, arrived late in Bethlehem and found housing impossible to obtain. Rooms everywhere were taken by the scores of citizens in town to pay their taxes.

One Bethlehem innkeeper, recognizing the situation and sympathizing with the travelers' plight, granted them the use of his stable for the night.

It was in this stable that Mary brought forth her first-born son. She wrapped him in swaddling clothes, routine procedure for the times, and laid him in a manger.

This, by itself, might have stirred no comment, had it not been for what was taking place some distance from the town.

There were shepherds keeping watch over their flocks by night, certainly unprepared for what was to come, and resigned to the boredom of another night guarding their sheep.

How they came to leave the country and hasten to Bethlehem is told in this interview with one of the shepherds.

"There we were, when the Angel of the Lord came upon us, and the glory of the Lord shone all around us. I'll be frank about it — we were frightened almost out of our wits."

"Then the Angel said, 'Fear not, for behold I bring you tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day a Savior, which is Christ the Lord.' You can imagine how we felt."

The Angel gave specific instructions, the shepherd said, continuing:

"He said to watch for a sign. He assured us that we would meet the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger. I'll admit we were more puzzled than impressed, at this point."

"Then," the shepherd went on, "suddenly there was with the Angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, 'Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.'"

All the shepherds, by their own statements, were deeply impressed and talked among themselves about the next step they should take. As each recalled it, they said to one another:

"Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us. We came as fast as we could.

"And so, enough, we found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger."

The shepherds lost no time in spreading the word about the child and what they had heard about Him; they admit to encountering some raised eyebrows.

Before they returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things they had heard and seen, the shepherds met with the press and one of them expressed the mood which seemed to prevail through Judea that day.

"It was an experience I shall never forget. I am only a poor shepherd, but I am convinced I was privileged to be in on the start of something big."

Carols
once were banned

By REV. W. LEE TRUMAN

Carols go with Christmas like apple pie goes with Mom, but it was not always so. Caroling began as a part of folk dances, and at one time were banned as sacrilegious.

The real reason was they were too closely associated with begging.

In this country they are a part of our culture because begging has not been associated with the act of caroling. Group singing is part of our Christmas celebration, and to many people the Nativity without a carol or two would be like a church service without a sermon, or a sleep without a bell.

By definition, a carol is a seasonal religious song which has a tune simple enough for an untrained voice to handle. The words come from the French "carole," which means a round dance. This is what the first carols were, folk dances with primitive musical accompaniment.

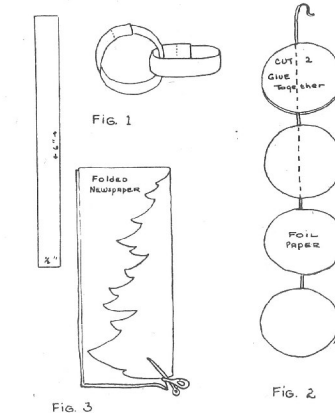

Many people think that carols are solely Christmas music, but there are carols for Easter and other religious days. Music for Christmas time as we know it originated for the most part in the 16th Century, and by that time many of them had taken on liturgical significance.

Some of the carols such as Isaac Watts' hymn, "Joy to the World" with music by George Handel are not truly carols. A true form of a carol was "antiphonal," which has come to mean for example two choirs singing at each other alternately. But originally it meant a refrain and chorus with a soloist singing one and the choir the other. "Jingle Bells" is an example of this type, and such a carol may or may not be based on folk music but was actually composed to be sung antiphonally.

Three prerequisites for use of a carol today are: It is a secular song which has been absorbed into the church service. It has to be monochromatic in character, that is, a simple tune. Also, it must have a text in two languages: English and Latin for example. This would be an example of a folk tune being used in church since the service was properly in Latin.

Singing the folk tunes used in festivals in time becomes a regular part of the worship service. They were probably rewritten by the clergy or court musicians. Undoubtedly they kept their base on secular sources which had come from the dramatic works or popular songs of the street.

Like today's folk music, carols are simple in style, strongly rhythmic, and catchy in tune. Because they

BE CRAFTY Paper chains easy to make

By ALICE MORRELL
Copley News Service

I received a letter from a lady in New England, who requested that I not use her name, but her letter was so delightful I decided to use it even though she shall remain anonymous.

"When I was a small child," she writes, "there would mysteriously appear a small fir tree on our front porch. This happened every year around the first week in December. It was usually about three feet tall and was in a wooden bucket. My Mother and Dad would come out to look at it and exclaim, 'How on earth did it get there?' and Dad would say, 'Well, well, guess it needs some decorating,' and carry it off to my room."

"My time after school and homework would be spent in making paper chains, stringing dogwood berries, collecting acorns, (always with the caution to tie to the tree with thread. As I grew a bit older I would save all year long tiny little things I found for my little tree. I decorated and re-decorated my tree many times before Christmas and loved every minute I worked to collect and make my little tree beautiful..."

"As I look back on it, my parents were very clever people. That little tree kept me occupied and out from under foot at a very busy time. Collecting and making decorations made the days waiting for Christmas seem to fly."

When I read that letter I immediately thought of the yards and yards of paper chains we made in school. We used to hang them around the doors, windows and across the tops of blackboards. My present thought was I haven't seen a paper chain in years.

With the advent of plastics and sequins the simple paper chain has probably been forgotten.

With so many beautiful papers available now, maybe it would be fun again to make the simplest of all decorations, the paper chain.

You need paper, glue, scissors and thread or fine wire (for hanging the finished chain).

To make a chain cut out strips of paper about 1/2 inch wide and 6 inches long. Allow 1/2 inch for overlap. Glue the two ends together by overlapping one on top of the other. Take another strip, push it through the first strip and glue it together (Fig. 1).

Continue in this manner until you have a chain the length you desire. The thread or wire around the end loops and fasten it to the tree. Chain only four or five loops to keep straight down, or make three different-sized loops by cutting longer or wider strips, then gluing one inside the other.

When using metallic paper, cut the strips twice the width you desire, in one third lengthwise and then form the loop in the usual way.

Another idea: Cut circles or diamond shapes (all the same size) of metallic paper. Then glue two together with a thread sandwiched between, glue several on one end and hang on the tree or in windows, doorways, etc. These are quite attractive where they catch flashing lights (Fig. 2).

For those rainy days this winter why not make a large paper tree by folding a sheet of newspaper in half, cutting it in traditional shape (Fig. 3) and thumbtacking it to the wall? Let the children make decorations and attach with plastic tape. To make a more elaborate tree, cut it of felt, glue a large piece of cardboard, and string up the decorations in place.

This may help away a rainy afternoon for the small members of your family and whet the imaginative appetite of some of the older members. Experiment and have fun.

Christmas was even eliminated for a time as a holiday. By the 19th Century, Christmas carols along with Christmas were back and the pious were out on the street railing the ancient tunes and seasonal good will for everyone.

Carols sum up the marvelous aspect of the physical event — God coming down physically among men by the means of a humble birth in a cold, secular world. His presence. It is worthy of our finest song, to be sung with great peace and wondrous joy.

■ It's the talk of the Quad Cities. WGNU's popular Party Line program is an everyday feature now, with Granite City Steel sponsoring the first hour from 3 to 4 p.m.

Party Line is a rapid, steady stream of what's happening: Regular reports from City Hall, the Police Department, the high schools, the hospital, the county court house and, of course, the steel mill. Plus local and national news, sports and markets, an occasional special guest, and audience jacks. If that's not enough, in between there's a chance for you — the listener — to call and say whatever's on your mind.

State victory in drug case aids hospitals

Attorney General William J. Scott announced this week that checks totaling $1,724,135 are being mailed to 67 public hospitals and tuberculosis sanitariums throughout the State as part of an overall Illinois settlement of more than $4,500,000 of a price-fixing case brought by Scott against various drug manufacturers. Scott said checks should be received this week by the Madison County Tuberculosis Sanatorium, Edwardsville, $542, and Wood River Township Hospital, $16,999. He said they will receive additional but smaller sums next year when a contingency fund established by the courts is closed out.

Scott's lawsuit charged that as a result of price collusion by five major manufacturers and distributors of the drug tetracycline, many state institutions, public hospitals and individual consumers were forced to pay artificially high prices for the drug from 1953 to 1966.

He said the suit established a legal precedent when the U.S. Supreme Court recognized the right of the state attorney general to represent all individual Illinois consumers in addition to the state agencies previously represented by attorney generals. As a result, Scott recovered more than $1,500,000 for the state General Revenue Fund and over $1,000,000 for a public trust fund to be announced later.

Seals and Crofts truth seekers

By JUDY HUGG

The old adage that behind every successful man you'll find a woman seems very appropriate when applied to the lives of Jim Seals and Dash Crofts. For it was Marcia Day, manager of the Dawnbreakers, who eventually turned their lives around.

"The Dawnbreakers was a seven-member group, put together by Marcia, that we played with in the mid-sixties," recalled Jim Seals in an interview. "At the time neither Dash nor myself were into religion, politics or anything like that, but everyone was talking about the teachings of Bahá'u'lláh and there was a unity that caused us to investigate the thing. Having become such close friends and all seeking for the truth, we would often stay up for days at a time discussing the different facets of Bahá'u'lláh."

Up until then, Jim had thought music and its rewards were the most important things in life. However, all of a sudden it dawned on him and Dash that these people wanted the same things they did and were on the same wave length as they were. "I feel that these teachings were responsible for my career being so successful because for so many years our motives concerning music were only to take what we could from it," he said.

"You know, you learn in this business, at an early age, that you can make a good living and get pretty much of everything you want. Therefore, our motives were for the wrong purposes and even though it was good training, we didn't produce any works of our own or do anyone any good."

"So it seems that when we started this, some of the ideas and concepts that people now love about our music were the ones we had taken from the Bahá'u'lláh teachings and set to music in a way that wouldn't offend anybody and wouldn't sound like we were preaching, yet cause them to think about certain subjects."

Amazing things started happening once the public became aware of the new Seals and Crofts. Letters started pouring in and students across the country began using the theory in their classrooms for themes and lectures. Although the duo has gained an immense following due to their new convictions there is no plan in the future for a religious album.

"You know, it's a difficult thing, so we've tried to take some of the concepts that we felt were different, that would provide some answers, and put them into songs like 'Humming Bird,' 'Nine Houses' and 'We May Never Pass This Way Again,'" Jim said. "We sort of put out a little bait just to see what we could attract and, to tell you the truth, the first time we played the material in a small club in Pasadena I was shaking all over because I didn't know if they would accept it or not."

Actually there was no need for fear since both "Summer

Breeze" and "Diamond Girl" LPs sold to the tune of over a million dollars each. However, it's doubtful that the majority picked up the true messages, but accepted them as just plain good contemporary LPs typical of Seals and Crofts.

Also typical of their style is the use of adjectives as nouns and nouns as adjectives. This allows them to condense a whole paragraph into one or two words and this causes both the music and lyrics to flow smoothly together.

Following a very successful southern tour, Jim says they are now preparing songs for their new album "Unborn Child," which should be released shortly on the Warner Bros. label.

"Unborn Child," the title cut and perhaps their next big hit, is a pleasant yet emotionally packed song about abortions. It's a poem by Crofts' sister-in-law, Lana Bogan, which Jim set to music.

"I guess you could call it an anti-abortion song, but that's not really what we intended it to be," he said. "What it says is that the whole theory of abortion is based on at what point does life begin. And we believe it begins at the moment of conception, which makes it a whole different thing because many believe it begins in the sixth month of pregnancy."

"So what we wanted everyone to know was the first six months really do count, but of course we couldn't say there should or shouldn't be

Explorers plan early Yule party

"Some people might think holding a Christmas party on Dec. 27 is having it two days late. We like to consider our party as 363 days early," Jeff Tolliver of Venice reported.

Explorer Post 10-4 will hold its annual Christmas party at the Stophlight Restaurant, East St. Louis, for the 40 members and their dates. After dinner and dancing at the Stophlight the group plans to go to Bowling for bowling.

such a thing since every case is different. It's also sort of a plea to those who might be very emotional and at one moment want an abortion and who may be sorry for doing it. The song, written as though the baby were talking to its mother, is summed up in one of the last lines:

"You'll never regret it just wait and see; Think of all the great ones who gave every-thing."

"By this we mean the Lincoln's, Kennedys and kings of this world whose missions in life we would have been deprived of had they been aborted. So really we just wanted people to think about the importance of giving and taking another's life."

It's a hot item so far and to decide for yourself.

Groundbreakings for buildings and housing 1973 highlights at SIUE

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Thurs., Dec. 20, 1973 Page 35

SEMINAR KEYNOTER—R. Buckminster Fuller, internationally known theoretician and visiting professor, was named keynoter for the new University Seminar at SIUE. The seminar begins early in 1974 with "Shaping the Environment" as the first topic.

McKinley PTA plans party

Cathy Epperson, president, presided at the executive board meeting of McKinley PTA Tuesday evening as plans were completed for the annual Christmas party to be held Friday.

CO-OP CUTS COSTS—Hit by the high cost of living, students at SIUE organized a food cooperative at Tower Lake which did a booming business during 1973.

Rhonda Mikulas wins top trophy

Rhonda Sue Mikulas, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Mikulas of Sunny Dell Acres, won the intermediate high point trophy in a baton contest held at Rolla, Mo. She accumulated a total of 42 points by winning six first-place and three second-place awards.

The first-place honors were won in advance fancy strut, advance flag, military, two baton and hoop and personality. The Granite City girl competed against contestants up to 18 years old to win the top trophy. She holds five national titles and has captured 205 trophies this year, including six high point awards.

Also attending the Rolla contest was Maria Dean of Granite City, who won five awards. Both are students of Cheryl Blackmore of St. Ann, Mo.

Groundbreakings for two new classroom buildings and additional on-campus student housing highlighted 1973 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Gov. Dan Walker turned a symbolic first spade for the classroom buildings, estimated to cost $13.4 million, and pledged his continued support "to make sure SIUE goes forward." It was the first groundbreaking for academic buildings at the university since 1963. When the two buildings are completed in 1976 the tight squeeze on classroom space which has affected the campus for several years should be eased.

Expansion of the Tower Lake complex will provide housing for 1,000 single students. The start of construction climaxed a two-year effort. Some new units in the $5.9 million project are expected to be ready for occupancy by September.

During the year significant progress was also made in the development of the academic program. The Illinois Board of Higher Education approved granting a bachelor of science degree in recreation, a master of science in urban studies and a master of science in mass communication at the University. In November the SIU Board of Trustees authorized a master of science degree in biochemistry and clinical biochemistry.

The Engineers' Council for Professional Development granted accreditation to undergraduate engineering programs in electronic engineering and urban and environmental (civil) engineering.

The National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education accredited bachelor, masters and specialist degree programs in education. Teacher education centers were opened in public school systems in Alton and Cahokia.

Principal academic units of the University were designated as schools rather than divisions. Dr. John S. Rendleman, president of SIUE, called the move "another step in the development of a growing university."

In June, Shirley Stimac of Wood River became the first woman to receive a degree in engineering from SIUE. She was one of 2,501 who were granted degrees during the year.

The School of Dental Medicine accepted 40 students in its second first-year class, an increase of 16 over the previous year. And the dental clinic was opened at Alton, providing treatment for 960 patients.

The University Seminar at Edwardsville was a new forum for interdisciplinary study and discussion of serious problems of society, was organized. R. Buckminster Fuller was selected as keynoter on the topic "Shaping the Environment." Seminar sessions begin Jan. 8, 1974.

A proposal which could make both bachelor and masters degree programs available at the East St. Louis Center of SIUE was presented to the trustees in September. The proposal was accompanied by a recommendation to speed major improvements in the former Broadview hotel property which houses the center.

The trustees ratified a committee report calling for an eventual end to tuition charges at state-supported universities. As a first step, trustees urged a roll-back of tuition charges to the level of 1970, beginning in 1974. Twenty-five SIUE students began taking some courses at the University of Missouri in St. Louis under an experimental reciprocal agreement which does away with payment of non-resident tuition charges. Faculty members continued to be recognized for outstanding achievement.

TOP RECRUITER—Sergeant John D. Keene, Granite City Army recruiter, was named "Top New Recruiter of 1973" at an Army recruiting Awards Banquet in St. Louis. Sgt. Keene, left, assigned as a recruiter here in February, is congratulated by his commanding officer, Lt. Col. Larry W. Padgett, commander of the St. Louis Army Recruiting main station. The St. Louis station serves as immediate headquarters for Army recruiting activities in this area.

RECEIVING CERTIFICATES for completing the four-session course "Selling Is Our Business," were representatives of Granite City businesses. The course was sponsored by the Associated Retailers and Civic Association and the Illinois Retail Merchants Association. Presenting the certificates were Homer Huber, president of Associated retailers and co-owner of Feder Huber Furniture Co., and Norman Hall, representative of Illinois Power Co. From left are: Huber; Marie Schoeber, representing Glik's Department Store; Joyce Pryor of Hudson Jewelers; Elinor Noll of Illinois Power Co., and Hall. The program was designed to improve retail selling in Granite City.

NATURE TRAIL being developed by Madison County for hikers, bicyclists and horseback riders which was the subject of a meeting in Edwardsville. Representatives of area clubs offered to hold fund-raising activities with hopes of developing rest and recreation areas along the trail. The trail extends from the Lake Drive railroad crossing in Pontoon Beach to route 159

(Troy Road) in Edwardsville. Improvements are to be completed and the trail opened to the public in the spring. A point of controversy developed when the state highway department urged use of an existing roadway over Interstate 270, while the railroad recommended use of the present railroad bridge. The railroad bridge likely will be used, eliminating turns shown in the circle.

Guard against fuel crisis job loss—Price

In remarks on the floor of the House of Representatives, Cong. Melvin Price of this district spoke in favor of the Emergency Energy Act, which he said "seeks to minimize as equitably as possible the potentially severe disruptions of the energy crisis."

He noted that Congress has not delegated unrestricted authority to the President in energy matters.

"Congress has required the submission of specific energy conservation plans subject to legislative review," he said, calling this "an important step in reaffirming Congress' role in policymaking."

Rep. Price spoke highly of a provision of the bill which would limit "windfall profits" and one which would develop programs and plans for protecting the American worker from job loss because of energy shortages.

"The energy crisis should not be used as an excuse for furthering the economic imbalance that already exists in this country," he said.

Citing figures which show that coal conversion would save millions of barrels of oil annually, Price also mentioned the bill's provision for increased use of coal resources.

Rep. Price joined in the near unanimous vote of approval the House gave to the appointment of Gerald R. Ford as Vice President. On the floor, Price congratulated his colleague, saying it had been a privilege to serve with Ford during the latter's 25 years in the House of Representatives.

"On many issues there have been differences of opinion," said Price, "but on matters pertaining to national defense and to many programs that we thought were in the national interest, we have consistently stood together."

Price called Ford "fit and qualified to hold the high office for which he has been nominated."

As chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, Price expressed satisfaction with the performance of the nuclear-powered spacecraft Pioneer 10, the vehicle which photographed the planet Jupiter after a two-year journey there.

"Nuclear energy continues to demonstrate its adaptability to new applications," said the congressman.

"Space exploration is an exciting and important national adventure," he said, "and the first use of an efficient nuclear-powered craft is an important step in our progress."

Pioneer's nuclear power system consists of four plutonium-fueled thermoelectric generators which supply 145 watts of electrical power. In addition, nine radioisotope heaters are integral to spacecraft control systems and maintenance of scientific instruments.

"Great advances in civilian technology have resulted from space exploration up to this time," said Rep. Price. "I am certain that the continued use of nuclear energy in our spacecraft will bring similar spin-off, perhaps in the form of improved power systems for commercial use."

Thurs., Dec. 20, 1973 Page 37

Rep. Price has urged the acting commissioner of the Community Services Administration to continue funding the annual Foster Parent Educational Convention for participants in the Foster Parent program.

"In past years, Title IV-A funds have been used to reimburse the foster parents attending the educational convention," said Price. He said he was unaware of any abuse of the funds in the past, and cited benefits derived from the convention in the aid of the Foster Parent Program.

Price has co-sponsored legislation which will establish "911" throughout the United States as a telephone number for use in reporting an emergency and requesting emergency assistance.

"Over three hundred 911 systems are currently in operation," said the congressman. "The overwhelming majority of communities using these systems report positive experiences and consider 911 an important component in their total emergency response capability."

The Emergency Medical Services Act newly passed by Congress contains an amendment that would implement the 911 system in areas receiving funds under the Act.

"The bill now under consideration," explained Price, "provides funding through the Federal Communications Commission to help other communities with the extra expenses entailed in establishment of a 911 system."

The bill is currently pending before the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce.

Price has co-sponsored a bill to provide out-of-hospital prescription drug coverage under Medicare for those who suffer from the most common crippling or life-threatening chronic diseases of the elderly.

"This bill would target the Medicare dollar toward beneficiaries with chronic diseases who need drugs on a continuing basis for a lengthy period of time," said the local congressman.

"It is this kind of expense," he said, "which can most adversely affect the budget of an elderly person living on a fixed income."

The bill, which has passed both houses, awaits a House-Senate conference.

SEASON'S GREETINGS

To Our Friends and the Citizens of Madison:

As the New Year approaches we hope your sorrows and disappointments have faded into the past and that the New Year will bring moral standards that will keep valid truths and generate the spirit in citizens to make them better citizens and a positive force in the community.

Let us bury all that has been unpleasant, unkind, mistaken and unprofitable and with the opening of the New Year look forward to greater and brighter prospects.

Life is worth the living if we make it so. Peace comes to the Peacemaker, and comfort to those who comfort others.

In closing I wish I could grasp your hand and say to you personally, "May the Spirit of this Christmas Season, its Joy, its Beauty, its Hope, and above all its abiding faith live among us—that the blessing of Peace be ours. The Peace to build, to grow, and to live in harmony and sympathy with others."

Honesty tests by Howlett

Springfield—Sec. of State Michael J. Howlett is doing something which he thinks may serve as a model for other state agencies and officials. Howlett is giving tests to employees which are designed to ferret out possible dishonesty, especially in sensitive posts. The testing program also will include a psychological measurement.

The secretary of state began laying the foundation for the test shortly after taking office. Prior to being elected as secretary of state, Howlett served 12 years as state auditor, a post now known as state comptroller.

The assignment to work out the test was given to Ross Otters, new chief of investigations, and Mrs. Miriam Ringo, personnel director in the Secretary of State's Office. Otters is a former agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Mrs. Ringo is a former director of the state's Personnel Department.

Because of past news stories about some divisions in the office, prior to his becoming secretary of state, Howlett wanted something to stop even any potential wrongdoing.

So the idea of such a testing procedure seemed to carry some merit when he first looked at it. Howlett wanted to keep possible dishonest tendencies from surfacing in his office. Now he is hopeful that through the testing program it might be stopped even before it gets started.

The testing started last month. Included is a portion in which the applicant uses pen and pencil.

It has been found that the test has been "quite successful" in the business field. The testing lasts about an hour.

It is hoped that by the end of June 1974, about 500 persons will have been given the test. These will mainly be new or prospective employees in the Secretary of State's Office.

Officials in Howlett's office say that up to now it has been difficult to try to establish a policy governing the tests. More tests will have to be administered before this can be done.

Eventually, all of the investigators in Howlett's office will undergo testing. There are 200 persons holding the position of investigator.

Some of the problems on the fact in the past stemmed from the fact that the duties assigned to the office ranged from driver licenses to the state library. It has been difficult to ride herd over such sprawling duties, it is contended.

Howlett is hopeful that, through administration of the test, early problems can be corrected before they start. He is watching the results closely and if it works the scope will be enlarged.

Independent voters urge impeachment

Independent Voters of Illinois will mobilize their 2,500 members in a statewide effort to encourage impeachment proceedings against President Richard M. Nixon, IVI State Chairman Lee J. Epstein has announced.

"Our members will be writing, wiring and personally calling upon their representatives in the Illinois delegation," Epstein said. "We are pressing for a thorough investigation by the House of outlandish and contradictory stories which have poured out of the White House for months concerning Watergate and other illegal activities."

"The magnitude of the unanswered questions surrounding the President and the actions of his personal staff leave no room for partisan interests. So our members will be contacting congressmen of both parties, to let them know we feel there is no alternative to immediate Congressional action," Epstein said.

RENEW CONTRACT

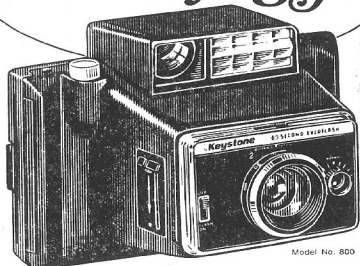

Renewal of a ten-year street lighting contract with Illinois Power Co. to maintain some 30 lights in Lee park, and a plan to determine if some of those lights will have to be moved due to relocation of Broadway were approved by the Village Park Board during a regular meeting Friday.

Pressure for campaign ethics law continuing

By RAY SERATI
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

In the fall session of the General Assembly, both houses approved several bills dealing with campaign ethics but none of them advanced to the stage where they could be sent to Gov. Daniel Walker for his signature or veto.

Walker had originally called one of the special sessions during the fall to deal with the campaign ethics or disclosure legislation.

Walker had his own proposals introduced in the General Assembly, but these were turned down. The legislators decided to pass their own campaign disclosure laws.

In all, the House and Senate passed seven campaign ethics bills. In all probability, the same legislation will be returned in the legislature next year.

This may mean that the same arguments for and against will be heard once again.

Presently, Illinois has a law dealing with economic disclosure. But under this law, a person holding public office only has to list his economic interests.

These are filed with the secretary of state's office on the state level and with the county clerk for county offices.

Some of the legislation which floated through one house or the other in the fall session would also have required school board members and members of special government districts to file a disclosure form.

With continued revelations in Washington, the pressure continues to rise within states on campaign disclosure. But many lawmakers say that the question has raised the least amount of mail of any issue.

Many of the legislators have been saying that campaign disclosures are a must. But to date, the economic interest legislation is the only proposal which has become law.

If the big push on such legislation can be kept up, some campaign disclosure law probably will pass next year. As of now, it is uncertain what type of legislation may be approved.

Heavy cars offer biggest savings from lower speed

Slow down and live. Slow down and save money. Slow down—or else.

All of these statements, save the latter at the present time, are true. And their justification can be seen from a new study conducted by the Illinois Legislative Council.

Taking three automobiles, a sub-compact, compact and standard-sized vehicle, three ILC members conducted three mileage tests.

A 1970 sub-compact and 1968 standard were driven 200 miles using varying speeds per leg of the trip, while the 1972 compact travelled 160 miles, again at varying speeds per leg.

All vehicles were equipped with automatic transmissions, but each contained a different amount of cylinders.

The sub-compact, a foreign-manufactured vehicle, registered 23.6 miles per gallon at 66.7 miles per hour, 25.1 mpg at 57.1 mph, 27 mpg at 53.3 mph and 27.9 mpg at 51.3 mph.

In other words, it increased its mileage by over six per cent with a 15 mph decrease in speed from 66 mph to 51 mph.

At 60-65 mph, the compact registered 15.5 mpg and at 50-55 mph an 18.4 level was reached. This means that an increase in mileage of 15 per cent was realized by decreasing the speed 15 mph.

The standard-sized auto, travelling at 65 mph, got approximately 15.9 mpg. Dropping down to 55 mph, an 18.7 mark was set. Again, a sizeable increase—about a 25 per cent jump in mileage with a 10 mph reduction.

Considering these same statistics in a different light, it is evident that the auto can travel farther on a given amount of fuel at reduced speeds.

For example, the sub-compact given 10 gallons of gas to burn could cover 41 miles more at 51 mph than at 66 mph.

Giving the bigger cars 20 gallons to consume, the compact could travel almost 60 miles farther at speeds 50-55 than at 60-65 mph, and the standard could travel almost 95 miles farther at a reduction from 65 to 55 mph.

The higher degrees of savings were realized by the two heaviest vehicles. Too, the highest savings was experienced in the automobile equipped with a V-8 engine and a 4-barrel carburetor.

Speed reductions by the large, high-powered vehicles could result in more significant savings than similar speed reductions by smaller, low-powered vehicles.

The small, low-powered auto received the best mileage at all speeds, its worst mileage (23.6 mpg) never less than the best mileage (18.7 mpg) of the larger vehicles.

The study also pointed out that other factors—such as the warm-up period, tuning of the engine, condition of the engine air filter, the type of tire and tire pressure, and the shape and weight of the vehicle—also are involved in gasoline consumption.

Few seek air variances due to fuel problems

Only seven firms have filed requests with the Illinois Pollution Control Board since October seeking permission to temporarily violate air quality standards because of the fuel crisis.

None of the cases had been acted on by the PCB by mid-December.

Robert Goldberg, in the division of air pollution control in the state Environmental Protection Agency, said 35 requests for variances for all reasons have been filed since October.

That figure includes the seven requests based on inability to obtain low sulfur fuel.

Illinois is apparently unique among most states in having the variance procedure available, Goldberg said. Even the federal EPA provisions do not include such a formal for obtaining quick relief when necessary from pollution control regulations.

In most other states, Goldberg said, there is an appeals board which hears appeals from rulings after they have been handed down. Most of these, he added, apparently do not include any time limits for returning a decision, while the Illinois PCB regulations provide that a decision must be returned within 90 days or the request is automatically granted.

Air pollution regulations are expected to be the only ones likely to be involved because of the fuel shortage, Goldberg said, since shifting fuels would have little impact on noise levels or land pollution regulations.

Water resources might be involved only to the extent that varying fuel sources might alter temperatures of waste waters being discharged, and these changes are not expected to be significant.

Usually, requests for variances which apply to air pollution standards involve claims that necessary equipment is unavailable or so costly it will force the firm out of business or that not enough time is allowed for the firm to meet requirements.

County fund squeeze causes clerk layoffs

A grievance was prepared Friday by members of the staff of Willard V. Portell, clerk of the circuit court, because Portell has ordered periodic layoffs in his department to meet a tight operating budget. County employees met Friday to discuss the issue and agreed to support the circuit court clerk's employees in the grievance action.

The county employees, members of American Federal State, County and Municipal Employees Local 799, also voted to reject a contract proposal from the Madison County Board which would have provided a per cent pay increase for all employees.

Employees of the sheriff's department previously voted to reject a similar proposal. The courthouse employees first were informed of the mandatory layoffs in letters distributed Thursday from Willard Portell, circuit clerk. In the letters, Portell says, "Throughout the year, it will be necessary for all employees in the Circuit Clerk's office to take one week layoffs at slow times, in order that we may stay within the budget for salaries. The next group of layoffs (after the Christmas layoffs) will come around Easter time when once again work will be slackened somewhat. "I am sorry this had to happen, but it is mandatory that we stay within our budget. The letter brought an immediate response from courthouse employees, many of whom consulted the president of the union local, Beverly Nelson. "Mr. Portell still has a contract with the union which is in force," she responded. "In the contract, there are provisions for layoffs when there is insufficient work, with the layoffs made on the basis of seniority. "Now there are some part-time employees and some on limited hours. By contract, they should be the first to lay off and then other layoffs should be made by seniority. This is the first initiated layoff, so apparently this is not by Hoyle," she said.

The local president added, "When a layoff is going to be initiated, union personnel are supposed to be notified in advance. That was not done this time. "I can see where two or three persons would be laid off in a slack period, but when you jeopardize everyone around you whose bills at home are planned, it can have a tremendous impact. The County Board has offered the courthouse employees a 6 per cent increase in salaries. "When you take a week without pay, about 2 per cent of your income, from that, we are ending up with only a 1 per cent increase and considering the way the cost of living is rising, we would be losing out," Mrs. Nelson said. The letter from Portell listed employees who would be laid off for one week periods, starting today. Among those to be laid off who either reside or work in Granite City are Rex Ogelsby, continues through Jan. 7. "The union will probably try to force the board to pay salaries for the periods those people are off, unless we can stop the layoffs," the union president said. "A strike also is very possible," she concluded.

Campus radio station offers 'alternatives'

Broadcasting service at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville should "give the people the widest possible access to the world through radio and television," a policy statement newly adopted by the SIUE Board of Trustees says. Trustees adopted the statement at the request of the SIUE administration. A March 9, 1973, statement on "Guidelines for the Functions of the Board of Trustees," adopted by the board, provided that the trustees should set broadcasting policies on campus. The Board of Trustees is the official licensee of all SIUE broadcasting operations. The policy statement deals primarily with WSEI-FM, the university-owned non-commercial educational radio station at SIUE, which has been on the air since Sept. 4, 1970. It serves a potential audience of 2.4 million in an eight county area. Professional quality television equipment is also available at SIUE, but the university does not yet have a permit to operate an educational TV station there. Questions of limited available broadcast time and subjective judgments by those who apportion the time "must be met by applying the principle of how to give the people the widest possible access to the world," the policy statement says. It is broadcasting services' primary role to "facilitate access to experiences, information, ideas, proposals and counter-proposals, arguments for and against, so that the people are aware and better prepared to make their own assessments and conclusions." While the statement says that only the director of broadcasting "shall be responsible for and authorized to determine specifics in respect to the station's programming," it calls for resources of the faculty and staff, as well as of the population served, to be utilized as fully as possible in initiation, preparation and presentation of programs. The policy establishes three basic programming elements: general information, service programs and entertainment. Material broadcast is to be truthful and fair, the statement says. It also calls for objectivity and balance in broadcasting programs. Objectivity involves distinguishing as clearly as possible between reportage, background and context, interpretation, opinion and advocacy. It requires elevating loyalty to truthfulness and fairness above personal likes and dislikes," the statement says. The Federal Communications Commission gives broadcast licensees wide latitude of judgment in matters of taste and decency. "The station should neither be used to restrict access of persons or subject matter, nor to condone gross improprieties," the statement adopted by the trustees says. The campus radio station is to give priority to alternative programming that is not currently available in commercial broadcasting schedules in the area. It is also to serve as a training laboratory for students intending to become professional broadcasters. The statement says the university's television facilities are also to be used to train students intending to enter the TV field. The director of broadcasting is authorized to develop external-oriented applications of the SIUE television facilities under the direction of the president, even though no open circuit telecasting is possible now.

Better foster care in Illinoisans' own state

By MARY LOU MANNING
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

An estimated 50 per cent of the 594 children placed in out-of-state facilities by the Department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities would be better served in Illinois facilities, according to a report issued by the DMHDD. The report comes on the heels of an extensive study and review of all Illinois children placed in privately licensed out-of-state facilities on the DMHDD interim care grant program. The study was conducted by members of the DMHDD who, over a 60-day period, made a child-by-child evaluation and review of each facility.

The prime reasons for returning the 294 children were inappropriate programming and long distance, which would hinder monthly monitoring. "Thirty-eight children, termed in need of immediate return because of inappropriate programming, are now being placed in Illinois facilities," according to Dr. Richard Blanton, acting deputy director of the DMHDD's division of developmental disabilities. "Another 164 residents are in states too far to permit monitoring on a regular basis. "Plans indicate these 256 residents will be returned by the end of next June."

The returning children are being placed in both private and state facilities, preferably within their home region. The state is divided into seven DMHDD regions. Of those returning children, 215 are severely and profoundly retarded, and most will require placement in a child care institution. Of the remainder, 75 are mildly or moderately retarded and four are emotionally disturbed. Of the 300 children who will remain out of Illinois, 29 are in specialty programs, such as those serving children with cerebral palsy or blindness, deemed adequate. The needs of the remaining 271 children in adjoining states also were found to be met. "The Division recommends that placements be made only in the bordering states of Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin and Indiana," explained Dr. Blanton. "If placements are made there, it will be possible to monitor each child on a monthly basis."

A statewide monitoring system is being developed on a regional basis. As the DMHDD regions assume these monitoring duties, it will be able to extend this responsibility to the out-of-state placements. The practice of placing Illinois children in out-of-state facilities began in the early 1960s, a time when the state facilities could not handle the patient volume. At that time, only the facilities in Lincoln and Dixon were capable of handling children placed by the DMHDD.

Guests attending were Mrs. Charles Hunsinger, Miss Grace Costello, Mrs. Isabel Schmidt, Mrs. Douglas Little, Mrs. Charles Lekow, Mrs. Helen Matson, Mrs. E. C. O'Neill and Mrs. William Beatty.

The fifth annual "Singing Christmas Tree," comprising 50 voices in a 60-foot-tall tree structure, will be presented on four evenings, starting today, on Madison Avenue at 24th Street, across from the Granite City main post office.

Choristers from the First Assembly of God Church, 24th Street and Grand Avenue, will sing traditional Christmas carols while standing in the "tree," according to the Rev. Dan Albrecht, associate minister and director of music.

The public is invited to attend the performances, the director said. Vehicles may be parked in front of the "tree" in the church parking area or across Madison Avenue, he explained.

Tonight's presentation will start at 8:40 and conclude at 9 o'clock. Two performances will be given Friday and Saturday at 7:30 p.m. until 8 p.m. and again from 8:30 p.m. until 9 p.m.

Sunday's outdoor carol fest at the singing tree will be from 8:30 p.m. to 9 p.m., following a concert in the church auditorium, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

A variety of old and new Christmas songs will be presented at First Assembly's traditional Yuletide church program, entitled this year "The Sounds of Christmas."

Several choirs, ensembles and soloists will take part in the presentation inside the church sanctuary, the Rev. Albrecht said. The public also is invited to attend the indoor concert, he announced.

YULETIDE CHORISTERS form a 60-foot tall living Christmas tree to serenade passersby on Madison Avenue at 24th Street, across from the main post office, on four evenings starting today. Comprising the choir are members of the First Assembly of God Church, 24th Street and Grand Avenue, under the direction of Dan Albrecht, associate minister and director of music.

24 youngsters go shopping with Jaycees

A HECTIC AFTERNOON of shopping with 24 active children may account for the resigned look on Jaycee Emmett Meador's face, at right. Mrs. Wanda Hill, left, a Jayceette member, and her husband, Randy, in background, were among 17 adults who accompanied the school age youngsters on the annual shopping excursion.

Amid the hustle and bustle of Christmas shoppers, 17 members of the Granite City Jaycees and Jayceettes spent a busy, but rewarding afternoon recently.

The occasion was the annual pre-holiday shopping excursion for deprived local children, a traditional project of the young men's service club.

Jaycee members and their wives escorted the youngsters to local stores and assisted them in purchasing needed clothing items or shoes. Names of the youthful participants were referred to the club by school authorities.

Part of the purchases were made with proceeds from the Jaycees' annual "Bowling Sweepstakes," a project staged at local bowling lanes each fall among league bowlers.

The remaining funds collected through the bowling contest will be used to host a party for young patients confined at St. Elizabeth Hospital at Christmas.

Jaycee Leroy Hoffman headed the shopping trip project, with 24 children happily accommodated with warm garments or sturdy shoes.

Assisting were Jerry and Cheryl Gann, Mrs. Peggy Hoffmann, Larry and Mickey Patton, Randy and Wanda Hill, Tom and Linda Holgrave, Owen and Marlene Ross, Emmett Meador, Jim Thrane, Guy Cooper, John Jones and Al Delay.

Wok utilized for Oriental cooking

Chinese cooking need no longer be a feat for the culinary expert only. With the introduction of the wok—a round, cone-shaped pan—Chinese cooking has become easy and fun.

The wok's unique shape, wide at the top and tapered at the bottom, permits concentration of heat at the bottom with a reduced temperature on the sloped sides.

This cooking vessel is particularly suitable for cooking in the Orient because fuel is costly. Foods are cut into small pieces, rapidly cooked and pushed up the side of the wok to remain hot, but overcooked, while other raw ingredients are added.

Although Oriental in origin, the wok adapts itself to all types of kitchen cookery—quick frying, braising, stewing, steaming, boiling or deep-frying.

Of course, the specialty of the wok is the stir-fry cooking method that opens up a new avenue of cooking for the adventurous homemaker. Stir-frying is basic to many popular Oriental recipes for meat, fish and vegetable dishes.

Fresh vegetables and meats, cut uniformly, are cooked at high temperatures. They come out crisp, yet tender and flavorful.

The stir-fry method uses less oil than traditional frying. And the higher temperatures, coupled with the short cooking time, seals in color, flavor and natural food juices.

The wok is an efficient cooking vessel for scrambling eggs. Its sloped side permit you to draw the cooked eggs up the sides, letting uncooked portions flow into the bottom area where the heat is concentrated.

Woks are designed as completely electric appliances or as plain pans to use on the range. One manufacturer of electric housewares offers a six-quart wok with an automatic control to vary heat from 150 to 425 degrees. Some electric models feature extra-thick aluminum construction for efficient heat distribution and a non-stick finish for ease in cleaning.

Some Pontoon businesses unlicensed

Failure of two Pontoon Beach business establishments to obtain village business licenses was cited at Thursday night's Village Board meeting by Donald C. Rea, trustee and chairman of the village zoning committee. Rea also said the businesses which have not obtained new licenses are required to have special use permits under the village's zoning regulations and they will need to obtain them before business licenses can be issued. Public hearings are required on all zoning changes and special use permits. The board referred the issue to the village zoning inspector who is to contact the businesses involved and aid them in obtaining the required documents. The problem of seeing that village businesses obtain licenses has plagued the board annually since the ordinances providing for license fees were passed. Floyd David Moss, village board president, requested that Ordinance 178, which allowed for the issuance of more liquor licenses in the village, be returned to the ordinance committee for possible revision. The ordinance was passed Nov. 15 increasing the number of Class A liquor licenses from eight to nine and creating the first club license for non-profit organizations. Members who were not present at that meeting asked that the ordinance be reconsidered and possibly revoked. Michael Goodman, the village's new probationary patrolman, was granted his initial clothing allowance of $125. The board discussed revising the village building codes and agreed to consult the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission (SIMAPC) on other available codes.

Toll-free tax advice begins

Starting this week, the Internal Revenue Service has a toll-free telephone service to Illinois taxpayers who need assistance with their federal income tax. Installation of this toll-free service is part of a nationwide system which will permit taxpayers to have access to free tax information Monday through Friday between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Leon C. Green, IRS district director for Central and Southern Illinois, notes that Illinois taxpayers may reach an IRS representative any workday by dialing 800-252-2921, in the same manner they would place any long-distance call. The same toll-free number is contained in the federal income tax forms package which taxpayers will receive in late December.

Green said the IRS has been working on the toll-free system for a number of years and it has been used successfully in some IRS districts. "The Service's decision to expand our assistance to taxpayers through the use of toll-free telephone service is based on our belief that the public needs, and deserves, the most efficient and convenient service possible."

The free tax information, utilizing a staff of specially trained employees, will be available on a year-round basis, Green said. It is expected that more than 250,000 calls will be received during the 1974 income tax filing season.

CALL BEFORE CHRISTMAS AND SAVE!

Because of the gasoline shortage, more people will spend Christmas at home this year. And that means more Long Distance calls. Circuits could be crowded, and some calls may not go through the first time. What can you do? Call this weekend. Circuits won't be as busy. And if you dial direct the One-Plus way between 8 a.m. Saturday and 5 p.m. Sunday, you'll save money. Because weekend rates are lower than holiday rates.

This year, travel early by Long Distance ... and stay awhile

Study sewage plant change

A proposal to modify the school district's sewage treatment plant at Mitchell School was considered by the Granite City Board of Education Tuesday night but was tabled to allow time for more consideration.

The proposal was to seek a permit to allow kitchen wastes to be disposed of through the plant.

The school's sewage has been handled through a district treatment plant in the past, but the Environmental Protection Agency has not allowed the kitchen wastes to be emptied into the system.

Kitchen wastes have been eliminated by use of a septic system in front of the school which has proved a costly means to use, needing extensive maintenance in recent years. The board heard a proposal from Thomas Wade & Muechen, the firm which presently handles contract maintenance on the sewage treatment plant, to revise the plant if an EPA permit to discharge kitchen wastes into the system can be obtained.

The firm offered to make design calculations relative to the adequacy of the plant, prepare all necessary plans and specifications and prepare the EPA permit applications.

Work would be done on an hourly basis with the cost not to exceed $700.

A stipulation in the proposal stated, "At this time, I can not guarantee an EPA permit, although, I can assure you that we will cease all work at any point that a permit seems unlikely."

The board received a petition requesting that the district complete the sidewalk on the south side of Morrison Road, west from Warnock Avenue to Maryville Road.

A request for the use of an auditorium for a Precise Early Education of Children with Handicaps Project (Peech) regional workshop Feb. 1 and 2 was approved by the board.

The workshop is to deal with early education personnel from throughout the Region I special education district.

The district will supply coffee and refreshments, the cost of which will be reimbursed by special education.

The board gave permission for Miss Barbara Kerch to attend the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreational national convention in Anaheim, Calif., March 28 to April 2, 1974, and for Dale C. Rea, assistant to the superintendent, and Victor G. Anderson, comptroller, to attend the American Association of School Administrators convention in Atlantic City, N.J., in February.

Alan C. Crider, director of the gifted program, was granted permission to attend the ASCD Convention in Anaheim, Calif., March 8 to 14, with necessary expenses paid from the gifted department's budget.

Board members were invited to attend the Illinois Association of School Boards' policy workshop in Springfield Jan. 11 and 12.

Use of facilities was granted to four groups. They were: The YMCA, use of GCHS North's gym Jan. 8 and 9 for the "Y" Soccer Association awards

Athletic equipment bought

Contracts totaling $16,953 were awarded to 12 supply companies by the Granite City Board of Education Tuesday night for athletic equipment and uniforms.

The bids will supply the items needed at the three junior high schools and the two high schools for spring sports, including baseball, golf, tennis and track.

Contracts awarded were to Bailey & Himes at $579, Black & Co. $1,621, Brothers Two, $1,267, Champion $2,135, Cohn $2,068, Dekan Timing $532, Economy $1,231, Mike Eckards Golf $250, J & N Distributors $1,349, Johnny Mac's $27, Illini Sporting Goods, $5,899 and Tappe Sporting Goods, $51.

The board also authorized Joe Fedora, director of athletics, to purchase an eight lane Centipede track liner for lining the new Granite City High School-North track from the manufacturer at a cost not to exceed $550. No bids were received on the item.

The board agreed to have Union Electric Co. install seven 1,000 watt lights in the GCHS-North parking lot at a cost of $121.89 per month.

An agreement between the board and L. Wolf Co., builder of the new high school, concerning the payment of utility bills during the construction, was approved by the board. The agreement calls for the district to reimburse the company $7,265 of the $11,381 paid by the Wolf firm between June 1 and Sept. 5.

Five firms were selected on the basis of low bid to specification to supply hardware items for maintenance purposes. Contracts were awarded to: Mechanics Planing Mill, $643; Schultz Door Closer Service, $314; George Rubelmann Hardware, $136; Sligo Mid-Continent Supply, $804; and Rubelmann-Lucas, Inc., $520.

Industrial arts equipment supply bids were opened and contracts totaling $1,313 were awarded to six companies. Mill Supply was awarded a $395 contract, Sligo $172, Brodhead Garrett $283, Sears, Roebuck & Co., $110, Rubelmann Lucas, $113, and George A. Rubelmann, $108.

Bills ordered paid were for $51,209 from the educational fund, $41,708 from the building fund, $408 from federal funds, $777 from the joint agreement fund, $498 from educational travel funds, $60 from joint agreement travel funds and $16 from federal travel funds. Disbursement for cafeteria purposes during November of $69,787 also were approved.

17th sewer break

Granite City Street Superintendent Lionel Portell reported at a City Council Monday night that crews were ready to repair the last sewer break in the city, but Tuesday he was proven wrong as the 17th break was discovered at 4106 rear Stearns Ave.

The cost of repairing the new break will push the city's repair cost well over the $1 million mark since spring flooding raised the water table in this area and began eroding the dirt bases upon which the sewers rest.

The new break is located next to a manhole and is at the junction of an eight-inch sewer pipe with a 10-inch pipe. The pipe serves Grigsby Junior High School, the Pontoon Plaza and Village Lane apartments, the new Colonial Haven Nursing Home and other developments and homes on the eastern edge of the city.

Chouteau asks for less revenue sharing

Chouteau township officials have notified the federal government that the formula used to compute the township's federal revenue sharing should be modified or the township will be overpaid on the next revenue sharing check.

Mrs. Patricia Paley, town clerk, presented the Town Board of Auditors Monday night a copy of a letter she has sent to the U. S. Department of the Treasury, informing them of the anticipated overpayment.

The township's revenue sharing is appropriated on a formula which deals with past taxes collected, population, average family income and other factors. Due to the abolition of a 16 1/2 cent permanent road fund tax, the township actually has received about $50,000 less per year than the figure the federal government is using to compute the township's share of revenue sharing.

The loss of the tax decreased the township's tax income from about $180,000 to about $129,000 for the past two collections. The calculations on the old collections, applied against the present township tax income, will show an overpayment of revenue sharing. The township now receives in excess of $9,000 quarterly. It is not known how much the revision will reduce that figure.

The town Board paid several claims from work done during spring flooding and it was noted no federal reimbursements from flood relief programs have been received to date. Receipt of reimbursements have been expected for several months.

Future Secretaries visit elderly, study careers

December has proven to be a full month for members of the Granite City High School Future Secretaries Association. The program for the month's meeting, held in the cafeteria of CHS North, consisted of a panel of secretaries in various industries, discussing their type of work in general and their own job duties.

President Sharon Mang called the meeting to order and Barb Siebert introduced the panel.

Mrs. Marcia Barron, secretary to Joe Hill of the law firm of Cabot, Matejka and Hill, described the duties of a secretary in a legal office. Next was Mrs. Daisy Paschea, court reporter, who gained most of her experience through working for Circuit Judge Fred P. Schuman.

Mrs. Lee Guenther, an educational secretary at Granite City High School North, gave hints on the proper way to get a start as an educational secretary.

Secretary to Paul Hatfield, vice president, Ralston Purina Co., Mrs. Mary Gann told of advantages of working for a large corporation.

Mrs. Charlene Vunovic, a secretary at KMOX Radio, related some of the humorous experiences of a secretary in this field. She advised the secretarial students that one of the best ways to ensure they enjoy their future lives as secretaries is to select an industry in which they have an interest.

They could begin as stenographers or clerk-typists, and work their way up to secretary, and from that position to practically any post in a company, she related. Mrs. Judi Sparks and Miss Lucille Aramowicz, faculty advisors, reported on the latest fund project, with special mention made of Randeel Harper, who has sold almost $90 in merchandise.

Twelve FSA members, together with Miss Aramowicz, joined with 15 members of the sponsoring chapter, The National Secretaries Association's Tri-Gilles Chapter, in their annual trip to the Madison County Sheltered Care residence in Edwardsville.

They presented Christmas stockings filled with fruit and candy, and gifts to the 64 individuals at the home. The stockings were furnished by Larry Siderer, president of Siderer Supply, who also acted out his usual role of Santa Claus, giving a kiss to each of the women at the home as he made his entrance at the door.

The girls helped in distribution of the gifts and stockings and with singing of carols.

Civic Committee Chairman Diane Daugherty said her committee will soon begin making plans for a Valentine party for those at the home, similar to the one given last year.

It was mentioned that any FSA member who has missed two meetings this school year will be dropped from membership if she does not attend the rest of the meetings. The next meeting is set for Jan. 22, when the local chapter will go by bus to a Tokana-Wood River FSA meeting to hear a speaker from Trans-World Airlines.

City gets bond funds

The final stage of Granite City's long-standing fight to finance its share of the new secondary sewage treatment plant was reached this week when the city received a check for $4,151,329 from the Weeden & Co. bonding firm of Chicago.

The fund represented the sale of a $4.1 million bond issue by the city. The bond was authorized in September, with the city's primary treatment plant the bond ordinance becoming effective in early October.

City Treasurer Paul Rutledge said the additional $51,329 over the $4.1 million from the time the bond ordinance became effective until the city received its payment this week.

Of the total, $1,015,000 will go to retirement of outstanding bonds that were issued in 1964 to finance construction of the city's primary treatment plant at the Granite City Army Installation grounds. The new secondary plant is being built adjacent to the primary treatment plant.

The bond fund also will enable the city to repay the pollution plant account for monies borrowed from that account to finance preliminary planning and engineering work on the secondary treatment program.

Engineering work already has cost the city more than $60,000 and additional engineering and inspection work, including the cost of a resident engineer, is expected to cost another $150,000.

Rutledge said today he is preparing a schedule of investments for the bond fund, under which the bond proceeds will draw interest until the money is spent.

The city expects to receive a grant of 75 per cent of the plant's total cost of $11 million from the federal government.

City Clerk Robert Stevens and Horace Calvo, special city attorney for the bond issue, returned Tuesday from Chicago where they spent money signing the bonds and completing final transactions of the bond sale.

Funeral services will be held at 9:30 a.m. Saturday in Portland, Ore.

A Christmas tableau was presented by the top officers of Granite Chapter 636, Order of Eastern Star, at the group's holiday party held during the weekend at the Masonic Temple.

Among those introduced and escorted were Hazel Wood, Mary Bibbey and Arline Fox, grand lecturers; Thelma Prewett and Howard Prewett, respectively, of New Hope Chapter; Dorothy May and William May, worthy matron and worthy patron, Freuburg Chapter; and 15 grand chapter committee members.

Right turn on red Jan. 1

Beginning the first day of the new year, motorists and pedestrians alike must come to terms with "right turn on red after stop."

That's the date for implementation of the new law passed by the last General Assembly permitting motorists to turn right on a red light after stopping — if it is safe to do so.

On the side of the pedestrian, the law specifically says that the motorist attempting to make a right turn on red after stop "shall yield the right-of-way to pedestrians lawfully within an adjacent crosswalk and to other traffic lawfully using the intersection."

A left turn on red will be permitted at intersections where signs directing it are present, most likely into one-way streets where traffic travels to the left.

The system has been in use in California since 1946. Presently, nine other states, including Florida and Minnesota, employ this system. Indiana will put it into effect later next year.

Wallace will head Shrine Oriental band

At a regular business meeting of the Anad Temple Shrine Oriental Band Tuesday night, Joseph Wallace of Granite City was elected to serve as president for 1974.

Other officers elected are Raymond Rogers of Edwardsville, vice-president; Wayne McGivoy, secretary; Carl Roach, treasurer; Avery Schenck, band director; and Don Z. Farrington, band manager. Melvior, Roach and Schenck are Granite City residents, and Farrington resides in Edwardsville.

The Shrine music group made over 10 appearances this year and won first place in June at the Great Lakes Association of Shrine Oriental Bands jamboree in Rockford. The association consists of Shrine temples in Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan and Ontario, Canada.

The band also attended the Shrine convention held in Cincinnati in September.

Raymond Ison of Granite City was reappointed drum major and Jack Stansberry of Wood River, historian. Jack Grissom of Hamburg is the retiring president.

Two other states permit the turns but have no provision for specific prohibition at certain intersections as the other states have.

The new law provides for local ordinances to prohibit the practice.

Also, the Illinois Department of Transportation's engineering and standards division is reviewing state-maintained intersections. At those with a high concentration of pedestrian traffic and those considered having a high potential for accidents, signs will be erected banning a right turn on red.

So, remember this: Presently, right turn on red after stop is permitted when a sign so indicates; soon, it will be prohibited when a sign so indicates, but otherwise will be legal.

Pressure Kirby to withdraw

By KEN WATSON
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

Hope continued this week among the top leadership of Illinois Republicans that a bruising primary battle can be avoided.

Behind the scenes, significant pressure was being exerted to persuade John L. Kirby of Williamsville to drop out of the race for U.S. senator.

Former Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie has been telling influential Downstate that Kirby should withdraw and leave the field open to LaGrange lawyer and former state representative George M. Burditt.

Kirby is known to be unhappy about a clear lack of enthusiasm about his candidacy from U.S. Sen. Charles H. Percy and GOP State Chairman Don Adams.

Beneath the Statehouse Dome there has been speculation that Kirby might leave the race by the Dec. 22 deadline for withdrawing petitions.

There are increasing Capitol reports that in a year when campaign money is unprecedentedly scarce, Kirby is having difficulty raising any kind of a primary war chest.

Estimates of the amount of money needed to mount an effective campaign against an organization candidate go as high as $1 million.

Some strategists believe Kirby would have difficulty raising even one-tenth of that amount.

Besides the core money problem, he also faces the handicap of trying to stir independent party interest at a time when most active party workers, from the top on down, feel that the last thing Illinois

Republicans need in 1974 is a hard-fought, bitter and dividing primary fight.

Increasingly cited is the nightmare Republican year of 1964. In spite of gathering clouds of doom on the national scene, Illinois Republicans staged a massive primary donnybrook and thereby aided Democratic John F. Kennedy to victory.

Although then, as now, all the early odds were heavily in favor of the Democratic, Republican hopefuls rushed into the primary as if Dwight Eisenhower were still running.

Incredibly, seven competed for the lieutenant governor nomination. There were six in the race for secretary of state; five for attorney general; and an astonishing eight for auditor.

With only a few exceptions, the primary aspirants could all be considered as serious candidates.

Although the survivors in the stampede for the above offices were all clobbered in the fall, the biggest loss to the Republican cause was in the governor's race, where Charles H. Percy battled to within 179,209 votes of unseating Democratic incumbent Otto Kerner.

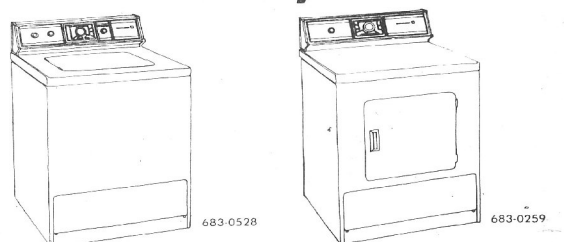

Even today, some students of Illinois political history believe that if it had not been for the primary gang-fighting, Percy would have beaten Kerner despite the Johnson landslide.

Instead of repeating the 1964 catastrophe, most GOP leaders would like to see the party emulate the 1966 story when the emphasis was on party unity.

Primary fighting was avoided that year and the GOP came off the mat to ride with Percy in an upset victory over previously unbeatable Sen. Paul H. Douglas.

Although the odds are even tougher for 1974, some GOP strategists see a possibility that Burditt could surprise heavily favored Democratic Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson.

Board chosen for bi-state area plan on water quality, flood control

Political leaders on Monday assumed primary responsibility for directing a three-year, $2 million metropolitan area study of water resources being conducted by the St. Louis District, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. Representatives of governments and agencies attending the first Metro Study Executive Board meeting were: Marvin Nodiff, representing Missouri Gov. Christopher S. Bond; John H. Poelker, mayor, St. Louis; Lawrence K. Ross, supervisor, St. Louis County and chairman, East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

Alan C. Richter, representing Francis Touchette, chairman, St. Clair County Board; R. L. Gardner, president, and A. N. Young, president-elect, Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission. Leo Duval, representing Jerome Swore, regional administrator, Region VII, Kansas City, Environmental Protection Agency; and Col. T. Roger Peterson, district engineer, St. Louis District. In addition, James Williams Sr., mayor, East St. Louis; Ralph N. Smith, presiding judge, Franklin County; Freeman J. Keim, chairman, Monroe County Board; Douglas Boschert, presiding judge, St. Charles County; and Francis Mayo, regional administrator, Region V, Chicago, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, have agreed to serve on the board. Participation discussions are under way with other key political leaders, Col. Peterson said. The executive board is responsible for policy making and final selection of a comprehensive water resources plan for the Illinois counties of Madison, Monroe and St. Clair; Missouri counties of Franklin, Jefferson, St. Charles, and St. Louis; and the City of St. Louis. In answer to concerns expressed over the Metro Study's relation to requirements of the 1972 Federal Water Quality Amendments (Public Law 92-500), Col. Peterson said meetings are under way with local government and EPA representatives to determine how the study can best meet these requirements. Two sections of the law, which deals only with waste water, require planning for facilities on an individual basis and the existence of a regional water management plan prior to funding individual waste water projects. "Public Law 92-500 is extremely complex, and EPA is working hard to interpret its content," Col. Peterson said. "However, because requirements have not been spelled out, we cannot know whether what is now perceived as meeting requirements will coincide exactly with EPA's final formal guidelines." To answer the federal requirement of 25 per cent local cost sharing for all waste water studies, officials of five counties and two cities already have pledged most of the $200,000, either in staff services or cash.

Staff services will include defining water resource needs and goals in the various counties and St. Louis, researching existing facilities and local institutions currently involved in water resources management, and sponsoring public meetings to determine primary citizen concerns about water resources. In addition to waste water, the 1972 Congressional resolutions authorizing the study also called for investigation of flood control, flood plain usage, water supply, water quality, water-related recreation, fish and wildlife conservation, and environmental protection and enhancement. With policy established by the executive board, work in these areas will be carried out by Corps personnel, outside contractors, an Advisory Committee composed of executive board appointees, and ad hoc Technical Committees. At the conclusion of Monday's meeting, Col. Peterson hailed board actions as "further indication of this area's willingness to take a regional planning approach to the solution of recognized problems." The Executive Board is scheduled to meet four times during the three-year study. At the next meeting in mid-1974, board members will select several alternative plans for further study. Near the end of Year 2, the board will select at least four of the more promising alternatives for further detailing. During Year 3, the board will select one plan to be recommended for implementation. After necessary reports on the final plan are prepared and the environmental impact statement is coordinated, the plan will be submitted to Illinois and Missouri governors for approval of the waste water management segment and to Congress as required by Congressional resolutions authorizing the study.

Women victims of oil racket

Women sometimes are victims of a racket in which a service station attendant puts the oil dip stick in part way and then tells the unsuspecting driver she needs oil, Fred Melton, an instructor in auto mechanics at Lewis and Clark Community College, told the Evening Kiwanis club at its Monday evening meeting in Charlie's Restaurant.

The meeting was a combination ladies night and Christmas party and the speaker's topic was "Woman in a Car." Melton's advice to the ladies was not to add oil, but wait until her husband checks it, or she goes to her regular service station where she normally trades.

The most common cause of auto failing to start is a battery related problem, Melton said. A battery should never be struck with anything, as they are made of lead and will crack easily, he said. Frequently the cables get corroded and need cleaning.

Kiwanian Marvin Barnes, program chairman for the evening, introduced the speaker. It was reported that the club collected $309 for the Salvation Army while bell ringing on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chapman were the guest of Kiwanian Darrell Weble, past president of the club.

President Howard Eltherton announced that due to the holidays, the evening club would not meet until 6:30 p.m. Jan. 7, 1974, at Charlie's Restaurant.

Maddox earns master degree

A total of 561 students became eligible for graduation at Colorado State University, Fort Collins, Colo., on completion of the fall quarter this month. Robert A. Maddox, 2828 Michigan Ave., qualified for a master degree.

The list includes 417 bachelors, 117 masters and 27 doctor of philosophy degrees. Graduates will receive diplomas in the mail, and they may return to CSU for the formal commencement ceremony in June.

Dec. 31 deadline for U.S. flood insurance

Residents of Granite City and of the unincorporated areas of Madison County have until Monday, Dec. 31, to purchase flood insurance under the National Flood Insurance Program, it was announced today.

Complaints have been received by the Department of Local Government Affairs from several area residents who said they were unable to purchase the insurance from their agents. A spokesman for the governmental department said that agents refusing to sell the flood insurance can be taken before the Illinois Insurance Board for not offering the special insurance. "Agents are required by law to sell it," the spokesman said. The spokesman stressed that only incorporated Granite City and unincorporated areas of Madison County are eligible from the Quad-City area for the program. Those failing to observe the year-end deadline, face waiting until flood maps are completed before they will be able to apply for flood insurance, the spokesman noted.

Enter Frohardt, Grigsby

Intruders broke into two Granite City schools, police were informed Monday. Frohardt School apparently was entered twice and Grigsby Junior High School was broken into once.

At Frohardt, an unlocked window in the south wing is believed to have been used to gain entrance. Two classrooms were ransacked but nothing was believed to have been taken.

The second entry occurred when a window on the south side of the east wing was broken to gain entry. The office door glass was broken and an adding machine was stolen from the office.

At Grigsby, a window on the south side was broken. The intruder was believed to have cut himself while entering as blood was found nearby. School officials said they thought the school had been tampered with but was not opened.

Park ID cards to be issued Dec. 27

Those obtaining ID cards are required to be residents of the park district and must provide proof of residency, such as a utility receipt, at the time of application, the park officer said.

The plastic cards, costing 75 per person, enable residents to attend park functions at a reduced rate, including skating sessions at the local rink.
